Rebel Dispatches from Charleston to Sunday.

FORT SUMTER A HEAP OF RUINS.

A Terrific Fire---The Fort Struck Four Hundred and Nineteen Times in One Day.

Gen. Gillmore Demands the Surrender of Charleston.

A Characteristic Reply from Beauregard.

Our Batteries to Open on Charleston at 11 A. M. Monday.

By the arrival of the steam-transports Columbia and America at this port, from Morris Island, we have dates to the 21st inst. at midnight.

The bombardment still continued, and the south side of Sumter has been demolished almost to its base. Forts Wagner and Gregg and Point Cummings Battery still replied at short intervals. The batteries on James Island had greatly annoyed the Union troops, and an expedtiion had been fitted out to silence them. The casualties on the Union side were very small.

Gen. Gillmore and all the officers were confident of final success in reducing all the fortifications on Morris Island.

Schooner Maxon Rogers, Farren, from Folly Island via Charleston Bar 20th inst., also arrived yesterday. Capt. Farren reports that when he left the Bar on the 20th, at 6 P. M., the siege of Fort Sumter was progressing in great earnest. The entire top of the fort was gone, and every parapet gun dismounted, most of which had fallen into the sea. It was further reported that Wagner would surrender soon.

ADVIES TO SATURDAY.

The steamship Constitution, Capt. Wm. Greenman, from Hilton Head, which port she left on Saturday Aug. 22, at 7 A. M., and Charleston Bar at 5½ P. M., arrived last evening, consigned to the United States Quartermaster. She left at anchor off Charleston the United States steamer Brooklyn, with steam up for New-York, having on board the remains of Capt. George W. Rodgers and Paymaster Woodbury, of the Monitor Catskill, killed in the attack on Fort Wagner.

The bombardment was going on with great energy and the firing was very rapid. The last reprot from Morris Island was that Sumpter had not responded to our guns for the last two days previous to the Constitution leaving Charleston.

Acting Master A. Smalley, of the United States steamer Mohawk, came passenger in the Constitution from Hilton Head.

Fortress Monroe, Monday, Aug. 24.

The steamer City of Richmond, Capt. Kelly, arrived in Hampton Roads yesterday noon.

Capt. Kelly reports having left off Charleston on Saturday last at 1 A. M.

The flags of Sumter were shot away on Thursday and Friday last, and no reply made to our bombardment, which was constantly kept up.

The whole of the southwest side of Fort Sumter was demolished, presenting nothing but a heap of ruins.

No guns were being fired from the Fort.

On Friday morning nine breaches were observed in Sumter by a spy-glass from the ships off Charleston.

The seige was then progressing.

For the last seven days our casualties had averaged only about four per day.

LATE AND IMPORTANT REBEL REPORTS.

Fortress Monroe, Monday, Aug. 24.

The flag-of-truce steamer New-York has arrived from City Point. She brings the latest Southern papers.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 24th inst. contains the following highly important dispatch:

"Charleston, Saturday, Aug. 22.

The fire of the enemy's land batteries has been kept up on Sumter, and more guns are disabled. There was only one casualty to-day.

There was also a heavy fire kept up on Battery Wagner both from the fleet and the land, and also upon Battery Gregg.

The casualties at Wagner were one officer and four privates.

Gen. Gillmore's demand for the surrender of Fort Sumter and Morris Island, with a threat to shell Charleston in four hours from the delivery of the paper at Fort Wagner, was received, and returned at 9 o'clock this morning.

Gen. Beauregard, in his reply, charges inhumanity and violation of the laws of war against Gen. Gillmore, and affirms that if the offence be repeated, he will employ stringent measures of retaliation.

Up to this time the threat to shell the city has not been executed.

Charleston, Sunday, Aug. 23.

On Saturday six hundred and four shots were fired at Sumter, of which four hundred and nineteen struck inside and outside.

The east wall is much scaled and battered in, and the parapet undermined.

The northwest wall, with the arches, etc., have fallen in. The guns are all dismounted. One private killed.

On Sunday the land batteries opened from south to north, and the Monitors from east to west, coming close up.

The fire was very damaging.

The east wall was cracked and breached, and the shot swept through the fort.

A shell burst, wounding Lieut. Boylston seriously, Col. Rhett, Capt. Fleming and Lieuts. Scanlon and Fickling.

The fort is now a ruin.

Col. Rhett is ordered, with his brave garrison, to hold his outpost even as a forlorn hope, until he is relieved, or the place taken.

On Saturday, at Wagner, a Lieutenant and four men of the siege train were wounded.

On Sunday, the brave Col. Gaillard lost his life.

It is said to-day that there are twenty-three vessels inside the bar, including the Ironsides and the Monitors, and thirteen more outside.

Gen. Gillmore sent a communication at 11 o'clock on Sunday, giving notice that at 11 o'clock to-morrow he would open fire on Charleston, and that in the meantime non-combatants could go out of the city.

REPORTED SURRENDER OF FORT SUMTER.

Philadelphia, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

A private dispatch received here from Washington says that the War Department has the announcement of the surrender of Fort Sumter.

A CONTRADICTION.

There is authority for stating that the War Department at Washington has been in the receipt of no announcement of the fall of Sumter, and is in possession of no information other than the statements copied from the Richmond papers received to-day at Fortress Monroe, and which are printed.

PROGRESS OF OPERATIONS.

TELEGRAPHIC REPORTS.

Charleston, Sunday, Aug. 16.

The bombardment has been much more violent during the last two nights; and to-day the enemy's long range guns have been shelling Fort Sumter without doing material damage.

Charleston, Tuesday, Aug. 18.

All day yesterday the bombardment was more furious than on any day. The Ironsides, six monitors and six gunboats, with all the enemy's land batteries, opened on battery Wagner at daybreak, throwing twenty shells per minute at our works. This continued until 11 o'clock, when the fleet and land batteries turned their attention to Fort Sumter. The Ironsides and six monitors approached within three-quarters of a mile of Fort Sumter, and battered vigorously against the south face of the fort. Sumter replied vigorously from her barbette guns. The contest lasted about three hours, when the fleet, having been struck very often, stood out of range, with flags at half-mast. It is supposed some high Yankee naval officer has been killed.

The enemy's land batteries, of 200 pounder Parrott guns kept up a constant fire yesterday evening, and all last night against Sumter. The roar of cannon heard in the city was tremendous. The casualties at Sumter yesterday were one killed and thirteen wounded; at Battery Wagner, seven killed and twenty-four wounded. Among the number killed is Capt. Wampler, of Virginia, Chief Engineer at Wagner.

The cannonade was resumed at daybreak this morning, and now, at 9 o'clock A. M., is progressing with great vigor. Batteries Gregg and Wagner are unimpaired.

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS.

From the Charleston Courier, Aug. 15.

During Thursday night a continued fire was kept up between the land batteries, and at intervals became very rapid and heavy. On Friday morning the enemy fired a few shell at Fort Sumter from the two mortar hulks which they have grounded on the beach opposite their nearest battery to Fort Wagner. The shell, however, fell far short of the mark.

After this exhibition, the enemy remained quiet the rest of the day, our side still sending them an occasional shell from battery Simkins. About 8½ o'clock last night another fierce cannonade opened between batteries Gregg and Wagner and the Yankee batteries on Craig Hill. This firing was unusually rapid. It was reported that battery Wagner gave the enemy the benefit of some new guns of heavier calibre, the fire from which is believed to have been very effectual.

The following, from the Mercury, looks as if hot work is expected very soon:

Gen. Beauregard has recently urged the departure of all non-combatants from Charleston, and prohibited the ingress of any more. There should be no mistake concerning the views, either as to the imminency of the danger at this point, or as to the character of the defence that he will make.

Let it be distinctly understood by everybody that Charleston is to be defended to the last extremity. If the harbor is taken, the city is to be fought, street by street, and house by house, as long as we have a foot of ground to stand upon.

It is high time that public attention should be directed to this subject. We were pleased to learn that the gentlemen composing the Commission met yesterday. We trust that in their efforts to make Charleston ready forthwith to stand shelling, they will have the coöperation and assistance of the entire population. Nothing could stay us and the country in the event of its fall, but the most heroic and devoted exertions; nothing can save Charleston but a desperate defence. One and all, let us bestir ourselves, and make ready at once for the rapidly approaching struggle. Let none be caught napping, and no obstacles be thrown in the way of our military authorities.

From the Richmond Enquirer, Aug. 20.

Every good Confederate is proud of Charleston and jealous of her fame. Once more the gallant city is in the agony of battle, standing at bay with a fierce and dogged resolution against the most stupendous bombardment that has ever yet assailed any strong place in this world. The Yankee has made sure this time, as he firmly believes, of the speedy fall of the proud little stronghold which he so cordially execrates in his mean soul. More and greater guns; longer and longer range; more and more tons of iron hurled from the throats of the hugest artillery—such are the means by which he confidently hopes to hold Sumter on Sunday next—which was Sunday last—and Charleston a few hours later. It is a great issue between unlimited material force, on the one side, and on the other indomitable hearts.

The whole policy of the enemy would now seem to be, to hurt the defenders as much as possible with their longest range guns, while they remain, as much as possible, outside the range of ours. Then the unbounded supply of improved missiles on their side gives them hope of wearing out the little garrison, and exhausting its ammunition. In this, as in all their other calculations, they are likely to fail. We have shot and shell enough to serve their turn; and we trust to be able, very shortly, to announce that their mammoth armada has crept out again, crippled, to the open sea; and that they are still impotently gnashing their teeth at the sight of the Confederate banner flying over unconquered Sumter.

Yet, if they take Charleston, what then? Why, then, they will have dearly bought the ruins. They will tread with awe the site of that famous town, which they will envy, hate and dread, even in its ashes; and they will be as far from the conquest of the Confederacy, of South Carolina, or even of Charleston, as they are now.

REBEL SPECULATIONS.

From the Richmond Examiner, Aug. 21.

We have not heard, either directly or indirectly, that Sumter has fallen, or been destroyed, or evacuated; but from the dispatch which is published this morning, it is reasonable to be supposed that it has been much injured, and may become untenable. The event has proven what was hitherto thought, that the heavy ordnance now used will do considerable injury to fortifications constructed of any known materials other than earth, even at the distance of three thousand yards.

Fort Wagner was exposed during forty days to the whole artillery of the enemy, at only eight hundred paces, yet it still holds its own, and if in danger only from cannonading would evidently last forever; while Sumter, which received the shot of a single battery at the immense distance stated, with occasional assistance from scary Monitors, suffers severely, and probably would have already crumbled but for the sand-bags with which its walls have been strengthened.

The article thus concludes:

If Morris Island should fall entirely into the possession of the enemy, he may shut up Charleston as a port of entry, but its defenders are determined to fight it out."

WHAT MUST COME AFTER SUMTER.

From the Washington Republican, Aug. 24.

When Sumter falls, as it probably has done by this time, Gillmore and Dahlgren will have accomplished to a certain extent the opening of the harbor. The idea of Sumter being the key to the whole position is not the fact to the extent understood by most people. The ship channel lies nearer, much nearer, to Forts Moultrie and Bee than to Sumter, and running by those works will be a matter of danger; to reduce them must entail time, as they are built of sand, not of stone. Inside the harbor there three in mid-channel. Thus the iron-clads, in the approach to the city of Charleston, will come within one mile of the guns of Fort Jackson, the same range of the iron fort on the Middle Ground Shoal, and withing two miles of Fort Pickens; besides which, there is a strong battery of 10-inch Columbiads in the harbor front of the city itself. We mention these facts in order to prevent false hopes with reference to the destruction of Sumter. Long and terrible work must be accomplished ere our flag floats victoriously over the doomed cradle of the rebellion, but there is no fear of the result. The rebels do not possess such astonishing guns as ours; their leaders have hitherto been outgeneraled by Gillmore and Dahlgren; their rank and file are no match for our iron-nerved and iron-willed volunteers and sailors; and, above all, God's curse is on their cause.

THE VERY LATEST.

REBEL ADVICES TO THE 24TH.

The Bombardment of Charleston Commenced.

Norfolk, Va., Tuesday, Aug. 25.

The Richmond Examiner of to-day has been received containing Charleston dates of the 24th, which say:

"Last night at 12 o'clock the enemy opened fire on the city, firing fifteen 8-inch Parrott shells.

Non-combatants are leaving the city in a continuous stream."

Washington, Tuesday, Aug 25.

A dispatch was received here to-day dated Fortress Monroe, saying: Capt. Chisholm reports Fort Sumter reduced and Charleston shelled.

Capt. Chisholm commands the flag of truce steamer New-York, and had just arrived at Fortress Monroe from City Point. It is plain that the report attributed to him is based on the Charleston telegrams in the Richmond papers, which were to-day dispatched from Fortress Monroe to the newspapers. Gen. Meredith accompanied him on official business, and all that was telegraphed to the War Department was the substance of the same telegrams. Beyond this here is no later information in the possession of the Government concerning events before Charleston.

[This dispatch from Washington is evidently based on intelligence not so late as that contained in the Norfolk dispatch, given above.—Ed. Times.]

DETAILS OF THE SIEGE OPERATIONS

Opening Fire—Fort Sumter Strengthened—Torpedoes—How and by Whom the Works Were Constructed—The Navy—The Rebel Works—The Casualties.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Morris Island, S. C., Friday, Aug. 21, 1863.

The orders issued by Gen. Gillmore Sunday night, for the artillery commanders to open their batteries on the rebel works at daybreak Monday morning, did not, in consequence of the advanced state of our siege operations, create any undue surprise. That the attack was about to be renewed was circulated with remarkable rapidity through the camp, and upon the countenances of the soldiers could be traced evidences of satisfaction, if not actual delight, at the prospect of being relieved of the monotonous life to which they had been subjected for the past thirty days. They had not forgotten the terrific assault on Wagner one month previous, less one day, when they were compelled to retire before the superior strength of the enemy, the thought of which made them all the more earnest in their desire to again attempt the reduction of the rebel works. Although fearfully decimated in numbers from the ravages of sickness and war, the brave regiments came forward once more to add new lustre to their own and their country's glory. But the nature of the conflict, which has been already intimated in this correspondence, rendered the position of the infantry not quite so hazardous as that they occupied during the preceding assault. Then they assayed to gain possession of the island by storming Fort Wagner; now they act as supports to the various batteries, which are expected to achieve the final result by silencing the enemy's guns. In this attack the artillery, both on land and sea, is the main dependence. The assertion of some officers that three hours only would be required to demolish Sumter is proven to be very wide of the mark. The rebels had ample time to strengthen the work, and did not lose a moment in using it to the best advantage. All the casemates on the southwest front were filled up with masonry and sand-bags, besides which bales of cotton were heaped up on the outside of the fort. Inside the fort every measure had been taken to resist the effect of shot. Sand-bags were used in great profusion, and quantities of the same were piled up in rows on the parapet.

To give a connected history of the siege it will be necessary to refer back to Sunday night, a few hours prior to the commencement of the bombardment. For the preceding two weeks more or less firing had had been indulged in at intervals by the two forces. Sunday night, especially, the rebels devoted themselves to shelling our men in the trenches. They seemed to have had a kind of warning that we were very nearly prepared to commence active operations, and as if to prevent a single additional stroke of work kept up a continuous fire from Wagner, Gregg and Johnson. We replied with a few pieces, which had the effect to lessen the enemy's fire as Monday morning advanced. At about midnight a shell exploded in the bomb-proof which protected a signal operator and his electric machine, The shell broke through the side of the encasement mortally wounded a sergeant, named Emerson, attached to the Signal corps, and slightly wounded Col. J. B. Howell, both of whom were in the bomb-proof at the time. Two or three other persons were also inside but escaped injury. Col. Howell was acting as General of the trenches for the night. At the moment of the explosion Lieut. Chas. F. Cross, the operator, was engaged transmitting a message to the headquarters terminus of the line. He was thrown headlong three yards from his chair, and himself and the machine completely buried in sand. He recovered from the concussion in a few hours, and resumed his duties at the front. The bomb-proof was located in about the middle of the second parallel. Lieut. G. S. Dana, the operator at the Headquarters office, wondered what caused the interruption of the current, and was on the point of sending out a party to investigate the matter, when a messenger arrived with information of the whole affair. The machine was taken to the chief signal office, where it was taken apart by Lieut. P. H. Niles, thoroughly cleaned and readjusted, and again placed in working order in three hours' time. Lieut. Niles is perfectly familiar with the workings of the wire, and was ordered to this post for the express purpose of establishing telegraphic communication between different points. His presence here Sunday night was very opportune, for no other person in the Department had sufficient experience to repair the damaged machine, and it was of the greatest importance that the telegraphic communication from the front should be kept open.

The damage inflicted on Sumter by the 200-pounder during the day amounted to six additional penetrations of five feet depth, besides loosening things generally inside the fort.

It seems that the rebels still adhere to their futile method of destroying our vessels. Saturday night the gunboat Pawnee, while making her accustomed trip up Folly Inlet, ran across a torpedo, which exploded under her stern, but without doing any damage. Further up the inlet and nearly opposite Pawnee Landing, other torpedoes were discovered and taken up. They were so constructed and linked together as to float down the stream with the tide, and made to explode when coming in contact with a vessel; but in the latter particlar, like nearly all other similar contrivances of the rebels, they were a failure.

THE WORKS ON MORRIS ISLAND.

As the works on Morris Island—both for offensive and defensive operations—afford material for an important portion of the history of the siege, I shall endeavor to describe with minuteness their positions and form of construction. In doing so I will commence with the parallels—the first works erected by Gen. Gillmore after taking possession of the island. The parallels, considered by themselves, are three in number, each of them extending from the beach on the right to the marsh on the left. The first is distant from Fort Wagner 1,200 yards, and from Fort Sumter about two miles. The second and principal parallel is so constructed that its left is 607 yards from Wagner, and the right 750 yards. The third and last parallel is 425 yards from Wagner. The parallels are not built directly at right angles with the length of the island, but in an oblique direction, the highest points resting on the marsh. The topography of the island made it necessary to give them that direction, about one-half of the surface being marshy ground. The rifle-pits, which form the foundation of the first parallel, were thrown up shortly after our troops gained possession of the lower part of the island, under the superintendence of the engineer officers of Gen. Gillmore's Staff. They were constructed in a single night, and used first in the attack on Wagner on the 18th of July. The interstices were subsequently filled in, and the first parallel erected. It is situated two miles from Lighthouse Inlet, is 225 yards in length, and has been the means of enabling much valuable service to be performed, although during the action, in consequence of the advance works, it has been of secondary importance.

The next step taken was the building of approaches or trenches which should connect the first and second parallels. That work was finished in a brief space of time, the workmen having been protected by guns mounted on the first parallel. Next was constructed the second and main parallel, used both for offensive and defensive operations. It has a length of 825 yards, and, perhaps, of itself, may be considered as simply a defensive work, as the siege guns which are used in the offensive are mounted on earthworks just at the rear. Beyond the second parallel are other trenches leading to the third parallel, which is the shortest of them all, being but 100 yards in length. Its distance from Fort Sumter is 3,350 yards. The third parallel is the advance work, and is used to protect the sharpshooters.

All the works beyond the first parallel were constructed under the immediate supervision of Capt. T. B. Brooks, of Gen. Gillmore's Staff. The upper end of the Island was formerly used as a quarantine ground, and when digging the trenches between forty and fifty dead bodies were exhumed. In erecting the works the workmen were obliged to perform their labors under cover of darkness. The rebel sharpshooters were constantly on the alert, and the moment a man showed the least portion of his person above the trenches during the day he was sure to be fired at. The enemy was supplied with telescopic rifles, by means of which he made some very excellent shots.

Apart from the parallels, and at the left of them, are earthworks which contained guns of heavy calibre. Their mean distance from Sumter is 4,100 yards. It is a very formidable work, and its guns did a vast deal of execution.

Still further to the left, and on the marsh, is another earthwork which faces Sumter. It is reached by means of a small creek, which passes it at the left, and flows into Lighthouse Inlet. It was the last of the fortifications constructed, and its sudden appearance one morning must have caused considerable surprise in the enemy's camp, he little suspecting that his foe would venture to mount guns on that particular spot.

The works abovementioned embrace all that were constructed by Gen. Gillmore on Morris Island. In the progress of their erection a number of lives were lost and several men wounded, but the casualties, viewing the amount of work performed, were comparatively few. The troops, comprising Gen. Terry's division, did the larger part of the work. About a week before the bombardment reinforcements arrived from the North, and relieved, to a great extent, Gen. Terry's force.

THE ORDNANCE.

The guns are worked for the most part by the Third Rhode Island artillery. Companies B and F, of the Third New-York, and B and E of the Independent New-York artillery regiments, are assigned to certain batteries in the parallels. The Naval battery is commanded by Capt. Parker, of the Wabash. The guns are worked by a detail of 100 marines taken from the gunboats. Fifty of them were on duty at a time.

THE NAVY.

The vessels that have engaged off and on during the siege are six Monitors, the Ironsides, five gunboats and two mortar schooners. One of the Monitors, the Passaic, has been used by Admiral Dahlgren a portion of the time as a flagship.

THE ENEMY'S WORKS.

The enemy's works have been already described in former letters. Fort Sumter mounted nine barbette guns on the parapet facing seaward. On the southwest parapet were stationed a row of guns of the peculiar kind called Quaker. Only one of the nine guns was of long range. Fort Wagner, on the northern end of Morris Island, is an earthwork, as is also Fort Gregg, on the extreme northern point of the island. They are distant from each other two hundred yards. Both forts are provided with bombproofs. Wagner contained two 10-inch columbiads and two 8-inch; also one large mortar and three guns of small calibre. Gregg was furnished with four heavy guns. Forts Johnson and Simpkins, on James Island, were each provided with long-range guns. The earthworks, extending some distance, on James Island, mounted five guns. Fort Moultrie, on Sullivan's Island, did not take part in the action. The above account of the rebel works was obtained from two deserters on Thursday, and alludes to their condition in the early part of the siege. The works nearer Charleston are not taken into the account.

THE FIRST DAY OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

The bombardment commenced at daybreak on Monday morning. All the mounted guns of heavy calibre, excepting one piece on the second parallel which had been accidentally spiked, were brought into action. A portion of the guns was directed to Sumter, while the others were pointed at Wagner and Gregg. At 6½ o'clock a Monitor rode up the channel and commenced firing at Sumter. In half an hour another Monitor and the Ironsides were engaged. At 10 A. M. five Monitors and the Ironsides had come up, and were joined at noon by five gunboats. The mortar schooners did not take part in the action in consequence of the bombs exploding within our own lines. A rapid fire was kept up on our part till late in the afternoon, when the Monitors hauled off, and shortly after the gunboats ceased, firing only at long intervals. According to the statement of one of the deserters before alluded to, the first shot that struck Sumter passed entirely through the outer wall and also an inner wall of masonry which had been put up to strengthen the work. Throughout the day the firing of the heavy guns was excellent. But few shots seemed to miss the mark. The mortars did very little execution. Most all the bombs seemed to explode everywhere but over the right place. Sumter fired but three or four shots during the whole day. Wagner and Gregg stood up resolutely to the work in the morning, first giving the Monitors a solid shot, and then sending a shell to the land batteries. In the afternoon they had lost considerable of their energy, and long toward evening used only the mortar in Gregg. Fort Simpkins fired regularly from two guns. Three other guns, mounted on the earthworks at the left of Simpkins, were active all day. At 11 o'clock A. M., in the heat of the action, Capt. George Rodgers and Paymaster Woodbury, on the Monitor Catskill, were killed while standing in the turret. They were struck by a bolt which had been driven through the iron plating by a heavy solid shot. The flag of the Monitor was lowered at half-mast, which was the case with the flags on all the vessels of the fleet, as soon as the disaster had been made known. At this writing it is impossible to compute the amount of metal hurled against Sumter. Every shot that struck it told with good effect. Penetrations of five and six feet in depth could be observed all over the southwest face. The parapet also began to present a very ragged appearance, and it was evident that the destruction of the work was only a question of time. Once during the day the halyards of the flag were shot away. When the flag came down it was thought by many that the rebels were about to surrender, but in two minutes' time up went another and a larger flag.

During the progress of the siege the cutting of the halyards of the same flag was a common occurrence. Although Wagner and Gregg were almost silent after dark, we had nothing to assure us that any great damage had been done either work. Our shot ploughed up furrows of sand, without apparently weakening the batteries. The rebel batteries on the left were noticed but twice during the day. The gunners handled their pieces well and obtained a very good range of our works, but succeeded in causing but few casualties among our men. During the night shots were fired at intervals of ten minutes.

THE SECOND DAY.

All the land batteries were again in action, directing their fire to the same points aimed at on Monday. In consequence of a severe gale and a high sea, the navy was unable to effectually coöperate in the bombardment, The Ironsides, however, which had not changed her position of the day previous, threw an occasional shell into Sumter. Wagner and Gregg, after giving a dozen replies, each were content to remain perfectly silent for several hours, after which period they again opened their eyes to the work. As night closed in, Sumter looked certainly mournful. Deep, wide holes were clearly visible in the southwest face, and only a portion of the parapet above remained. The heavy siege guns in our batteries did their work well that day. Among our wounded was Lieut. Holbrook, of the Third Rhode Island artillery. He was struck by a fragment of shell in the shoulder and back.

THE THIRD DAY.

On Wednesday, the third day, the bombardment was continued, only our guns were not fired so rapidly as on the previous days. Our gunners, however, had got the range completely, and the ammunition exhausted for Sumter's benefit was not done so in vain. In the afternoon two of the Monitors advanced toward Sumter for the purpose of attacking it at 2,000 yards range, but the current was so strong that the vessels become unmanageable, and the officers were compelled to abandon the design. Sumter, by way of a parting salute, fired one gun—the only one heard from it that day. As usual, the rebel batteries on James Island were the only ones really alive, and the probability is they would have been quieted in a very short time if our heavy guns had been turned upon them. At night a sad accident occurred from the premature explosion of a shell in Capt. Comstock's battery, by which Lieut. Webb, of the Fortieth Massachusetts regiment, was killed, and —— Whitten, Company B, same regiment, and Thomas Cosick, Company K, One Hundred and Fifty-seventh New-York, were severely wounded. Three others were slightly wounded from the same cause. The firing was kept up regularly throughout the night. Shots were now going through one side of Sumter and passing out of the opposite side—we could see the channel through the apertures made. The naval battery fired 130 rounds, 75 of which struck Sumter. In the afternoon one of the 80-pounders was disabled in the breach—the result of its own discharge. The Whitworth's are to be removed from this battery, and Parrott's guns substituted in their place. At night a sap was constructed from the third parallel to within 200 yards of Wagner. The rebels were also employin building a sap from Wagner toward our works.

THE FOURTH DAY.

At about noon, Wagner opened heavily on our land batteries, but was glad to draw off after the Ironsides had fairly got to work. With the exception of a score of rounds from the Ironsides, and a few from the gunboats, the fleet were not engaged. The Monitors did not even advance toward the rebel works. In the morning, the rebels commenced shelling the marsh battery from their batteries on James Island. During the day they fired 116 shots, only one of which struck the work. If that was a fair specimen of the gunners' skill, they may fire till doomsday, and no harm will be done.

As it may be of interest to know how the rebels get provisions and ammunition into Gregg and Wagner, notwithstanding our guns command the channel between Sumter and Gregg, I will state that every day two black steamers may be seen plying from Charleston to the north side of Sumter. There they remain till dark, and then slip over to Gregg, and deposit their cargoes. Deserters say that the enemy had 3,000 men on Morris Island, and 6,000 in Charleston, They were protected on the island by a bomb-proof in the rear of Wagner. At night the firing was kept up with vigor.

To-day, Friday, (6 A. M.,) a heavy cannonading is going on. The marsh battery is at work, directing its fire to Sumter. The Monitors will probably run up close to Sumter during the day.

The following is a list of the wounded since Monday morning:

Col. J. B, Howell, 85th Penn.—slightly in face.
Lieut. Holbrook, Co. M, 3d Rhode Island artillery—arm amputated.
Lieut. Augustin F. Webb, Co. B, 40th Massachusetts—head, since died.
Chas. H. Derby, Co. A, 3d New-Hampshire—arm.
Lewis D. Whitton, Co. B, 40th Massachusetts—leg amputated.
Wesley Bissell, Co. B, 40th Massachusetts—chin.
Thomas Cosick, Co. K, 157th N. Y.—hip, dead.
John Quilter, Co. C, 75th Ohio—severely, dead.
Andrew Jackson, Co. D, 75th Ohio—both legs and arm.
Conrad Schrank, Co. B, Ind. N. Y.—leg.
Rufus Tilbe, Co. E, 17th Conn.—foot.
George F. Stevens, Co. B, 7th N. H.—arm amp.

WHIT.

KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE.

The Advance of Rosecrans and Burnside.

HOW CHATTANOOGA IS TO BE ATTACKED.

GEN. ROSECRANS' ARMY.

Correspondence of the Chicago Journal.

Winchester, Tenn., Tuesday, Aug. 18, 1863.

Again the Army of the Cumberland is on the move. Again the rebels are to be met, fought, and as surely as met, defeated, for our army knows no such word as defeat. The movement commenced on the 16th. On that day Gen. Thomas moved from Dechard, Tenn., Payne's division, which has been stationed at the University, on the Cumberland Mountains, leading the advance. Johnson's division of McCook's corps left Tullahoma on the same day, at 4 o'clock P. M., and passed through Winchester at 6 o'clock A. M., on the 17th. Jeff. C. Davis' division followed at 2 o'clock P. M. Sheridan's division moved from Cowan the same day, and joined the rest of the corps at Salem, ten miles from Winchester, on the Huntsville, Ala., road. From thence the corps moved in column, accompanied by its artillery and baggage, crossing the mountains, and striking the Tennessee River at Bellefonte, Ala., twelve miles west of Stevenson. Thomas's corps moved over the mountains on a line nearly parallel with the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, cross the river at or near Bridgeport, Ala. Pontoons sufficient to bridge the stream were shipped to Bridgeport in season for its rapid construction.

Crittenden's corps moved eastward to feel the strength of the enemy, and with the intention of crossing the mountains to the north and east of Chattanooga, crossing the Tennesse River at a ford some thirty miles above Chattanooga. This crossing safely effected, Crittenden will swing into the rear of Chattanooga, and, if possible, take that place. The intention is to strike that point offensively at the same time that Burnside attacks Buckner at Knoxsville. This will at once prevent Buckner from receiving any reinforcements, and also, if not captured, greatly endanger his retreat, for it will be impossible to retreat toward Bragg. Meanwhile, if Crittenden succeeds well in his efforts upon Chattanooga, and will not need reinforcements, Thomas and McCook will move rapidly upon Rome, Geo. Bragg is at that point with the whole of his command, save what few troops he may have at Chattanooga. It has been believed for weeks that the only force at Chattanooga is composed of citizens, and perhaps a brigade of troops, who operate to keep the citizens in fighting trim. It is also believed that Bragg will not resist at Rome. As we advance, it is probable he will attempt to fall back upon Joe Johnston, who was positively at Atlanta, Ga., on the 12th inst.

Rosecrans will, if possible, whip Bragg in detail, disperse his forces, and then attack Johnston alone, for united, the two rebel armies would outnumber ours.

Granger's corps (reserve) lies in readiness to reinforce rapidly by rail to Chattanooga, and, if the road is not destroyed, then to Rome.

Twenty days from this time, if I mistake not the signs, will see Georgia redeemed and regenerated.

W. S. D.

GEN. BURNSIDE'S ARMY.

Correspondence of the Chicago Journal.

Stanford, Ky., Monday, Aug. 17.

This place is fifty miles south of Lexington, Ky., and about thirty miles from the Tennessee line. Here and at Somerset the troops of Gen. Burnside have for some days been concentrating. Gen. Julius White, now in command of the First brigade of Carter's (the First) division, has just moved from here with his command, being the advance, bound for East Tennessee. This is the left wing. Somerset is on the Tennessee line and the troops at that place—forming the right wing—moved at the same time those moved from here, commanded by Gen. Judah. Gen. Hobson is also in that division. The Ninth army corps, (reserve,) which has been at Camp Nelson, about twenty miles south of Lexington, is also moving. By the latter part of this week you may hear either of the defeat or the skedaddle of Buckner's rebel army at Knoxville, East Tennessee, and of Burnside's occupation of that long oppressed region. It is generally anticipated that Buckner will not stand to give battle.

We have a much larger army here than is generally supposed. It would be contraband to state the numbers, but you may rest assured that the force is adequate for the work at hand, and "more, too." The cavalry wing is quite large, and the infantry and artillery in proportion.

Many refugees from East Tennessee are with our army, and rendered serviceable as guides and scouts. Two hundred of these refugees came in yesterday in one body. They immediately enlisted in the First and Second East Tennessee regiments of mounted infantry.

Scott's rebels have all been driven out of Kentucky, and this State is now free from guerillas, as far as I can learn.

The news from Rosecrans' army is that that force is moving upon Chattanooga.

Gen. Burnside and Staff were at Lexington yesterday, and were about leaving there for the front.

The One Hundred and Twelfth Illinois is in this command. All the troops here are in fine condition.

CLAY.

DREADFUL MARINE DISASTER.

The United States Brig Bainbridge Foundered at Sea.

All on Board but One Man Lost.

The Captain of the brig South Boston, which araivid at Philadelphia on the 23d inst., reports that on the evening of the 22d, in latitude 37°, longitude 74°, he picked up a boat belonging to the U. S. brig Bainbridge, which was full of water and contained a colored man named Smith, who stated that on the 21st during a violent gale, the brig foundered, with al hands on board, except himself and the cook. The latter went crazy after being five hours in the boat, and jumped overboard.

The Bainbridge sailed from this port on Tuesday, 18th inst., for Port Royal. The following is a list of her officers:

Thomas J. Dwyer, Acting Master, commander.
A. G. Stebbins, Ensign and Executive Officer.
E. H. Allis, Assistant Surgeon.
C. C. Walden, Assistant Paymaster.
John T. Hughes, Sailing Master.
Edwin E. Drake, Ensign.
Elias Smith, Jr., Ralph G. Hotchkiss, Benjamin N. Hamlin, C. P. Moore, Master's Mates.
Francis W. Conselyea. Paymaster's Clerk.
S. Horace Smith, Surgeon's Steward.

Loss of the Steamship George's Creek.

The brig Matilda, from Havana, anchored in the lower bay, has on board the Captain, crew and passengers of the steamer George's Creek, hence for Port Royal. She was lost in a gale when off Hatteras. Capt. Neff reports left New-York 18th inst., for Port Royal, with a cargo of 495 tons of coal for the Government, and on 20th, in lat. 35° 38′, lon. 73° 42′, experienced a gale from N.E. to N.N.E., during which sprung a leak, and finding it impossible to keep her free abandoned her on the 22d, with 10 feet water in the hold; was 48 hours in the boats. Fell in with the Spanish bark Louisa, from Havana, in lat. 35° 48′, lon. 74°, who took them on board and brought them to this port. The George's Creek was 10 years old, of 480 tons burthen, and was owned by John R. Bacon and others.

Restrictions on Travel Released.

Louisville, Ky., Monday, Aug. 24.

A military order has been issued discontinuing the examination of the baggage of passengers over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

Post-Office Robbery.

Boston, Monday, Aug. 24.

The Salem Post-Office was broken open last night, and every letter in it stolen.

THE EXEMPTION ORDINANCE.

Veto Message from Mayor Opdyke.

The Mayor, at the meeting of the Common Council yesterday, sent in the following veto message:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
NEW-YORK, Aug. 24, 1863.

To the Honorable the Board of Councilmen:

GENTLEMEN: It is with sincere regret that I find myself constrained by a sense of duty to return without approval the measure originating in your Board entitled "An Ordinance making additional provision for the families of persons who may volunteer or be drafted into the military service of the United States, during the existing war, in accordance with chapter 514 of the laws of 1863, and for other purposes." I had hoped that informal conferences between members of the Common Council and myself might lead to a coincidence of views and a corresponding modification of the ordinance, and thus avoid delay. But since these efforts have failed it only remains for me to return the ordinance with a frank statement of my objections to it in its present form.

There are, as it seems to me, two purposes having relation to the draft, and two only, for which money may be justly appropriated from the City Treasury. One, the procuring of substitutes for those whose personal services are necessary to the city, and the other, the providing for the destitute families of those who have gone forth in our defence. The former is proper upon the same principle upon which a private Corporation or an individual may seek to procure a substitute for an officer or agent whose services at home are necessary to his principal. In the category of persons necessary to be retained I include the active members of the Fire Department, of the Police, and of the organized militia of the City. Without the continued presence of the firemen the City would not be safe for a single day; and nearly the same thing may be said of the militiamen, as our experience in the last month proved, if any could have doubted it before. I have already, as you know, suggested that provision should be made in respect to the firemen, and have proposed, in order to avoid delay, while discussing other provisions, that a separate ordinance should be passed, which can be done at once, creating a fund for procuring substitutes for them. And I now propose to you that instead of waiting the ten days during which your reconsideration of the present ordinance must, of necessity, be suspended, we should all concur in the passage of an ordinance providing for the payment of substitution money for all our Policemen, active Firemen and active Militiamen who may be drafted. The exempt Firemen ought not to be included, nor the exempt Militiamen, and for the same reason, that, however deserving the individual may be, and however much his past services ought to be rewarded, it is not his deserving but the public need which can alone justify the use of the public money by the public servants.

If the whole militia of the State had been organized as it ought to have been, the reason for procuring substitutes for them would not have been applicable; but since the injunctions of the Constitution in this respect have been flagrantly and persistently disregarded, insomuch that only a fraction of the population has been organized into an armed force, this force is necessary at home, where it will always form a reserve, from which detachments can at any time be sent to the defence of other parts of the country.

With respect to the families of our soldiers, there can be I should think but one opinion. No man who is fighting our battles should be permitted to feel any doubt about the welfare of his family at home, so far as it is in our power to assure him. We owe it to him and we owe it to ourselves that where he lacks the means we should make them up, to insure the comfort of his home and the education of his children.

In the accomplishment of all these purposes I invite your coöperation, as you shall have mine. In my public, as in my private capacity, I will do every thing which lies in my power and which my judgment approves as honorable and lawful for the safety and honor of this City, and for the mitigation of any hardship which may happen in this instance, as it often happens in exceptional cases from the operation of a general law.

Let us now look at the terms of the ordinance presented to me, to see how far it fulfills what it professes, and how nearly it conforms to the lawful and beneficent purposes which I have explained. The first section appropriates three millions of dollars, to be borrowed by the Comptroller and disbursed by him, sometimes without the concurrence of any supervisory or auditing officer, but generally upon the order of "a Committee of the said Corporation, consisting of the Mayor, the Comptroller and the members of the Board of Aldermen and of the Board of Councilmen." Stopping for a moment to consider the composition of this Committee, I cannot but observe that it would afford great opportunities for abuse. Too numerous for individual responsibility, too unweildy for the investigation of particular cases, it would be obliged to investigate by sub-committees and decide by accidental and fluctuating majorities. The applications for relief would be many; they might amount to thousands, and they must all be decided within the next ten or twenty days. How it would be possible for this Committee to do justice alike to the applicants, and to this City, I am at a loss to perceive. If it be said that all the members of the Common Council should be members of the Committee, because they may have occasion to qualify the rules prescribed by the ordinance, or establish a new one, it will readily occur to you that this would make the ordinance still more objectionable, because it would in effect introduce the Comptroller into the Legislative department of the Corporation, would deprive the Mayor of his coördinate authority, and would be a palpable evasion of that rule of the law that an ordinance appropriating the public money must specify the objects of the appropriation, while this would be in effect an appropriation of three millions of dollars for such objects as should afterwards be determined.

The second section of the proposed Ordinance makes it the "duty of the Comptroller to pay, upon the order of said Committee, to every citizen, and to every person who shall have declared his intention to become a citizen in the manner provided by law, who shall be ordered into the military service of the United States in pursuance of the provisions of the act of Congress, known as the Conscription act, and whose liability to serve shall have become fixed by the action of the Board of Enrollment of the District in which he is drafted, in case the said Committee shall certify that the person so drafted is in indigent circumstances, or is a member of the Fire Department, the sum of three hundred dollars for the relief of the families of the said persons so drafted." Under this section, as it stands, a young man who arrived from a foreign land "in indigent circumstances" on the first day of March and the next day declared his intentions to become a citizen, may be entitled to the three hundred dollars, whether he has any family in this country or any family at all. He may be in the most robust health and without a relation on this side of the Atlantic; he has come, perhaps, from absolute poverty and social degradation in his own country, to such freedom, comfort, property and social position as so many foreigners have sought and found here before him, under favor of our hospitality and the safeguard of our all-protecting laws. He is seeking employment; he is drafted, by the chances of an impartial lot, into the service of his adopted country, and offered bounty, food, clothing and pay, threefold what he had ever aspired to in his own country, and yet the Common Council of New-York, by this ordinance, tell him he need not go, and they place three hundred dollars in his open hand that he may hire another person, perhaps a native, to fight in his place.

Or let us, for another illustration, take this case: A young man arrives in this City on the same first of March fresh from his New-England home, with nothing but the education which his father gave him, and with the hope that, though poor now, he may in due time become rich. He enters an office or a counting-house, and in August is drafted. Your ordinance gives him three hundred dollars from the public Treasury, that he may stay at home, and send another in his place.

Monstrous as this seems, it is not all. Not only may any man, native or foreign born, who is drafted, and happens to be in "indigent circumstances," stay at home, but, according to this ordinance, he may stay at home without putting another in his place. He need only have his liability to serve "fixed by the action of the Board of Enrollment." He need never serve or even be mustered into the service.

But suppose him to serve, why should the money be paid into his hands? He will be absent in the army, and cannot carefully disburse it for the benefit of his family, and, if he could do so, he may not choose to. There have been improvident soldiers. They are liable to temptations and deceptions like other men, and if they should choose to use the money for other purposes than the relief of their families, the City will lose the money and still have their families to support. In short, unless the services of the drafted men are necessary to the City, to give him the sum of three hundred dollars, whether he has a family or not, is a gross misappropriation of the public money. To give it, whether he serves or not, is an indirect attempt to nullify the Act of Congress; and to give it to him, and not to his family, as they may need it from time to time, is a palpable evasion of the Act of the Legislature mentioned in the title of your ordinance. That act, as its title imports, was intended to provide for the wants of the family at home while its head is absent in the field. To give the money to the soldier and not to his family—to one who is going hundreds of miles away from them; to one who may use it for other purposes or lose it in a day, is as foreign to the intention of the Legislature as it is unjust to those who pay the taxes, and whose money is thus to be wasted.

The fourth section of the ordinance presented for my signature provides that a person in indigent circumstances, who is drafted and procures a substitute, shall receive three hundred dollars; that is to say, any poor man who is drafted, whether he has any person dependent on him for support, or is alone in the world, shall receive the money if he finds a substitute. He may have strength sufficient for any labor; but he may have been too indolent to use it; he may never in his life have earned as much as the pay of the soldier; he may even be a pauper under the charge of the City, and yet he shall have a substitute, and we shall pay for that substitute.

The fifth section of the proposed ordinance requires the Comptroller, without the order of the Committee, to pay $300 to every accepted substitute for a drafted person, whether the person drafted be poor or rich, or whether the substitute has already received much or little from his principal. Thus, if the wealthiest man in the City were to be drafted, and were to pay $1,000 for a substitute, that substitute would still be entitled to the $300 from the City treasury. Such is the ordinance which I am asked to approve!

Again; the circumstances under which this measure is brought forward seem to me to add greatly to its impropriety. The draft was commenced in this City on the 10th July last. Three days thereafter its progress was arrested by an infuriated mob, which destroyed the Provost-Marshals' offices, made deadly assaults on the Government officials, and thence proceeded to a revelry of rapine, arson and murder, mainly directing its vengeance against unoffending negroes and those who were most open and earnest in their loyalty to the Government under which we live. Under such an onslaught, in the absence of adequate military force, the draft was necessarily suspended for a time. Six weeks have elapsed, during which every plausible objection to the fairness and equality of the draft has been removed by prompt modifications on the part of the Government. The Government has, also, at great expense and inconvenience, provided ample means for enforcing the draft and preserving order. Having done all this, it issues orders for its resumption.

All these circumstances pointed to the occasion as one in which the supremacy of law and order, which had been here momentarily interrupted by mob violence, was to receive a noble vindication in a fair and fearless execution of the Act for enrolling and calling out the national forces. Instead of coöperating in this effort so essential to the future peace, security and reputation of this City, we propose to ignominiously surrender the principle involved by adopting an ordinance which, if carried into effect, would virtually render the draft a nullity in this City. The prospect of such a result from it has already gladdened the hearts of those who are striving to destroy the Union, as witness the following comments on the ordinance from the Richmond Sentinel:

"But there is yet another price paid to secure the compliance of the people. The City Councils have resolved to purchase exemptions of such of the poor as may be drafted. This disarms Lincoln's conscription of its remaining terrors, and will, probably, secure for it a contemptuous submission. If, indeed, the Councils intend their offer as an honest assurance to the people, and not as a deceptive placebo, then will the people come out substantial conquerors. They will, to be sure, have passed under the forms of the draft; but it will have cost them nothing, and to Lincoln it will have yielded only a few dollars."

I might stop here; but the occasion justifies if it does not require further observations. The policy of the Drafting Act was to provide soldiers for the national armies, and not money for the national treasury. Whatever promotes this object is so far lawful, patriotic and honorable; whatever contravenes it is unlawful, unpatriotic and dishonorable. What would be thought of a Common Council which should seriously propose to pay all fines assessed upon non-attending jurors? And yet it would be difficult to point out a difference in principle between that and what you are now attempting to do. One would tend to close our courts, the other to disband our armies; and both are aimed against the policy of the law of the land.

The theory which lies at the foundation of the ordinance that you have presented to me appears to me to be this: That compulsory service in the ranks of our armies is intolerable hardship from which the poor man, before all others, should be exempted. I deny both assumptions. Neither has any support either in fact or in reason.

It has been said that compulsory service in the military forces is contrary to our usages and foreign to our policy. The very opposite is the truth. From the time when our fathers landed on this continent it was the invariable and fundamental rule of their law and their policy, that any able-bodied man between the prescribed ages, should be compelled to bear arms, and, when distant service was required, the persons to perform it were designated by draft.

The service was not voluntary, however cheerfully rendered, but it was exacted by the Government. Every Constitution of this State, the Constitutions of the other States, the Articles of Confederation and the Federal Constitution, all bear witness to the prevalence and the necessity of the practice. So it has been with other free nations. Switzerland has always relied on the compulsory service of her gallant mountaineers. And it may be safely asserted that no free country in the world has maintained its liberties without the rigid exaction of military service from all its capable citizens. In our own country, drafting has been resorted to in every war excepting that with Mexico and the Indians. It is true that the National Government has never before found it necessary to make drafts except from the militia of the States, but then the States kept up their militia as they do not now, and the service was as compulsory as it is under the present law. Whoever, therefore, asserts that compulsory military service is unusual, or contrary to our notions or our policy, forgets or falsifies the plainest facts of our history.

Can any reason be given why a person who happens to be poor should be exempted from such service to his country as he is able to render? If he be capable of bearing arms, why should he not bear them? I am now speaking of his own claims, and not of the claims of his family. Has he any plausible reason for exemption from military service because he is poor? The question answers itself. It might be as plausibly maintained that because he is poor, he should not vote, or that if he votes, and thus helps to make the laws, he should not also help to defend them. Rights and duties are correlative. To be consistent, we might frankly say to him, if you really claim that because you are poor in property you ought not to be obliged to bear arms for the Republic, then you ought not to control its policy. If you will not defend, you ought not to have the power to offend.

This war, above all other wars of which history makes mention, is a war waged on our part in the interest of poor men. The rebellion was plotted, begun and prosecuted in the interest of the owners of slaves. Whether the man who labors with his hands should be a freeman or a slave, should own himself or be owned by another, is the ultimate question which this nation is now deciding, in the assemblies of the people, in legislative halls, in executive cabinets, and on many fields of battle. The rebels maintain that that is the best condition of society where the land is divided into great plantations and their owners own also the laborers who till them, and the artisans who make their implements; and this condition of society the rebels are striving to fortify and extend. The free and loyal people of the land, maintain that the laborers and the artisans should be as free as the owners of the soil. Thus, of all the people in the country, the laborers and the artisans are most interested in this question. We are taking their side, seeking to bring universal opinion to their favor, writing and speaking for their cause, and fighting for it by sea and land. Would it not seem incredible blindness and fatuity, if they whose interests are thus involved, and whose cause is stirring the blood of true men all over the world, should themselves hold back and leave others to defend their rights?

The burdens of taxation are already heavy upon our citizens. We have an increasing expenditure and an accumulating debt. The property of all classes may be seriously impaired by over taxation; and it may even happen that some of those who suffer from it will begin to inquire whether we, who are ready to make these large additions to their burden, are voting away our own property or theirs. They may go so far as to charge us with an unprovided and illegal expenditure of the public funds, and if they look about for a motive they may be uncharitable enough to suspect that this zeal to procure the exemption of a large class of our fellow-citizens from duty under the draft is stimulated by party considerations rather than by benevolent and patriotic impulses.

But whatever may be the criticisms of others, we may disarm them of all force by performing our responsible duties with fidelity to the interests of our City and our country. Faithful to the Constitution, obedient to the laws, loyal to the country, proud of its institutions, its history and its promise for the future, let us stand firm and unmovable, fearing no violence, heeding no clamors, and despising every description of menace, striving to fill the thinned ranks of our armies, seeking to exempt none but those whose presence here is essential to the public safety, and consoling and encouraging the brave soldiers who go to the field by providing for the families which they leave behind them, whose wants they may be unable to supply.

GEORGE OPDYKE, Mayor.

Brooklyn Common Council.

THE HALF MILLION CONSCRIPTION LOAN—THE RECENT CALAMITY AT HAMILTON-AVENUE BRIDGE.

A special meeting of the Common Council was held Monday evening, in compliance with a call of the Mayor, to take such action in relation to the half million dollar loan as to secure the money without unnecessary delay.

Alderman O'KEEFE, the President, occupied the Chair, and there were present Messrs. McLaughlin, Newman, Ennis, M. Murphy, Ternan, Talmage, E. Murphy, Taylor and Kalbfleisch.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, when the following communication from the Mayor was submitted:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, BROOKLYN, Aug. 24, 1863.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: I most sincerely regret the necessity which compels me to again call your honorable body together, and ask you to modify the resolutions adopted at your special meeting of the 19th inst., in reference to raising money to relieve the families of those who may be drafted to do military service in the army of the United States, in compliance with a law of Congress known as the Conscription act, for the reason that capitalists express a disinclination to loan the money in their present shape.

The first resolution adopted by your honorable body provides for raising the money in pursuance of the power conferred upon the Common Councils of cities, by chapter 514 of the Laws of 1863. On consultation with Judge MORSE, the Treasurer, upon the subject, and an examination of some other statutes presumed to confer additional powers, as also to meet the wishes of parties desirous of investing some of their means in furtherance of the object in view, I have thought best the more to facilitate and expedite matters connected with the raising of the money, to submit for consideration, to your honorable body, the propriety of rescinding the first resolution, and adopt the following, which is substantially the same, and, in my opinion, will prove more effectual in its results:

Resolved, That in pursuance of the power and authority vested by law in this Common Council, it is hereby determined and decided to raise a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars to be disbursed for the relief of the families of those who may be drafted for service into the armies of the United States.

The second resolution adopted by you provides for borrowing the money by the Commissioners on the Sinking Fund. This is not the usual way of borrowing money for the use of the city, and as chapter 46 of the laws of 1863 expressly provides that bonds issued for moneys expended for bounties to volunteers or for expenses of their enlistment, or for aid to their families, or to pay any liability incurred therefor, shall be in the same manner and form as other bonds heretofore issued by the city. It is considered inadvisable to depart in this instance from the mode invariably pursued on former occasions when loans have been negotiated. I therefore submit for adoption, the following in lieu thereof:

Resolved, That the Mayor and Comptroller be and are hereby, authorized and directed to borrow upon the faith and credit of the city, in such manner as may be most advantageous for the city, a sum not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may, from time to time, be necessary to carry into effect the foregoing resolutions. The moneys so borrowed to be paid into the city treasury, to be used for the purposes contemplated under the first resolution.

Very respectfully,
MARTIN KALBFLEISCH, Mayor.

I also beg leave to call your attention to the communication of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, in order that your honorable body may take such action in the premises as may be deemed best for the interests of the city, and to guard against the recurrence of accidents such as are mentioned therein.

Very respectfully,
MARTIN KALBFLEISCH, Mayor.

After the reading of the communication, Alderman TERNAN moved to rescind the resolutions adopted at the last meeting, which was agreed to.

On motion of Alderman TERNAN, it was resolved to adopt the two resolutions suggested by the Mayor.

On motion it was then resolved to adopt a resolution providing a Committee of seven to disburse the fund.

The following Committee was appointed, the resolutions having been unanimously adopted: Aldermen Ternan, Nodyne, Taylor, McLaughlin, Kalbfleisch, Perry and McMurphy.

The following communication in relation to the recent calamity at the Hamilton-avenue draw bridge, was read and referred to the Law Committee:

The Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the City of Brooklyn:

GENTLEMEN: I beg to call your attention to the lamentable accident at the bridge over Gowanus Creek on Hamilton-avenue, on the night of the 19th inst. We claim that the primary cause of this deplorable accident was the neglect of the city authorities in not furnishing proper lights and guards, and requiring more care from those having the charge of the bridge. This Company has no control, voice, or direction, in regard to the bridge, the lights, signals, or persons keeping the same. It is a part of the public highway, over which we, in common with others, have a right of transit. For this privilege we specially pay $20 per annum for every car run, and keep in repair not only seventeen feet in width of the bridge, but of the 30 miles of street occupied by us. Surely, for this consideration we have a right to, and do ask all possible care, and a full indemnity for all damages suffered by us, by reason of any neglect of the city authorities or its servants. We call your attention to the matter, not only in behalf of ourselves and those whom we transport, but in behalf of all others crossing the bridge. While the jury who examined the circumstances of this accident did not deem it within their province, or pertinent to their inquiry to take testimony as to the manner the bridge had been kept and lighted, other than on the night in question, there were those who were ready and offered to testify that the bridge had been opened at night without lights, when it was so dark it could not be seen; and that night after night no light has been there, so that those crossing had to get off or out of their vehicles and grope their way in the dark to find if the bridge was open or closed. With all respect we beg to suggest: First—That the city should forthwith add other and better lights, with signals on both sides of the bridge. Second—That gates should be so constructed as to close the street when the bridge is open. Third—That the passage of boats through the draw should be regulated by an ordinance, so that the draw should not be open but at stated intervals. Fourth—That the keeping of the bridge should be given to the Company, subject to the control of the city authorities. We acknowledge our duty to use all possible care; we mean to do so; if we do not, we must and do suffer. We hold the city subject to the same rule. Respectfully submitted,

H. R. PIERSON.
President Brooklyn City Railroad Company.

The communication was referred to the Law Committee, and the Board adjourned.

The Twenty-third Connecticut.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I have just risen from the usually pleasant exercise of reading your morning issue. My pleasure is this morning, however, greatly marred by finding in the letter of your correspondent "Galway," the following paragraph:

"The Albert Pearce, upon which I came up, also had the honor of conveying the Twenty-third Connecticut regiment of infantry, who, being nine months' men, and having distinguished themselves by their gallant surrender of Brashear City and other similar feats, were on their way home to receive the reward due their arduous nine months' labors. They are rather a fine set of men, but like all other soldiers who enlist for short terms, they lacked the effectiveness attained by months of marching, drilling and fighting."

Now, I pronounce this paragraph a piece of unfeeling irony, and as undeserved as it is unfeeling. It is true that the Twenty-third Connecticut was a nine months' regiment, but this was no fault of theirs. It was the term for which the Government asked their services. It is true that a portion of it was surrendered at Brashear City; but are the men responsible for the incompetency or cowardice of their commanding officer?—an officer, by the way, connected with them but for a brief period, and not of their line.

Has your correspondent never heard of La Fourche, where, on the 21st of June, this noble body of Connecticut yeomanry, in connection with other troops equally deserving, stood up against a trained force of Texans, greatly superior in numbers, and repulsed them? Perhaps, according to all accounts received, no action during the war has been more brilliant than this—a loss of about thirty on our side, to one hundred and more of the rebels, buried by our men the next morning. And yet these men have only "distinguished themselves by their gallant surrender of Brashear City and other similar feats!" Your dainty-fingered correspondent could sit quietly in his comfortable cabin and write such insane slander as this!

I know these men. One of them was from my own household, who nobly fell in the above action. A nobler set of men could not have been found. Generally heads of families, most of them leaving high social positions—some of them members and officers of our churches—all going to the front from a sense of patriotic, Christian duty; and is this the certificate with which they return?

Now, Sir, very urgently do I ask that this brief criticism shall be inserted in your paper, and to secure you from all embarrassments I give you my name.

E. E. GRISWOLD.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 24, 1863.

—They are having a great deal of trouble in Providence with "bounty jumpers" and substitute swindlers from this City. The Journal of Wednesday says: "Capt. HANLIN developed another precious trio of scamps yesterday. The first was a young man calling himself WM. H. ONDERDONK, who said he was selected by one of the others, who claimed to be an officer of the Executive Department of the State of New-York, to 'spot' deserters. He wore spectacles of entirely plain glass, evidently put on to disguise a rather wicked face. Upon investigation he was himself 'spotted' as a deserter from the Eleventh New-York regiment, by the name of HENRY MYERS, who had been to Taunton, and attempted to pass the Board, but was rejected. Then came the second person of the trio, one RICHARD BARBOUR, who it was known had been discharged from the Provost-Marshal's department, but who now pretended to be here on special private business for the Executive Department of the State of New-York. Unfortunately he had no papers to show his mission, and his companionship with a deserter, and his association with the substitutes and agents afforded very poor credentials, so that no one was surprised when a dispatch was received from the Acting Assistant Provost-Marshal-General in New-York that the fellow was an imposter. He was also committed. The third of this gay copartnership was one FLURY, from Taunton, who claimed to be accidentally in the ring. He had brought on a German to sell here as a substitute, but the thieves had stolen him on the steamboat, so that on the whole he was the losing partner. He was discharged.

TUESDAY, Aug. 25—P. M.

There is increased speculative excitement on the Stock Exchange to-day, and at the early Board the prices paid for many of the leading Railways were higher than the extreme rates of yesterday. In other descriptions the upward movement appeared to take a fresh start, Michigan Central rising 9 ⅌ cent., Reading 5 ⅌ cent., Wabash 5 ⅌ cent., Galena and Rock Island 2@3 ⅌ cent., each, and Pittsburgh 1½@2 ⅌ cent. over yesterday's sales. New-York Central, Illinois Central and Erie were also higher; the first-named touching, at one time, 139½ ⅌ cent., and Illinois Central 138½ ⅌ cent., as against 137 on both stocks at the close of business yesterday. Erie was done at 121 ⅌ cent. After the first Board, on the Street the market was somewhat irregular, and this feeling was followed by lower sales at the Second Board, where there was great excitement among both sellers and buyers, at the difference of 1½@2 ⅌ cent. from the top sales of the morning, the market continuing very active inside the Board-room after the formal adjournment of the session.

At 4 o'clock, prices were quoted about as follows, compared with Monday afternoon; the Railway speculation active, but the bidding irregular in contrast with the general stiffness of the market early in the day:

	Mon.	Tues.		Mon.	Tues.
Gold Coin	124	122¾	Harlem Pref.	158	160
U.S. 6s, 1881	107	107½	Mich. Central	120	125
N. Y. Central	137	136⅝	Mich. Southern	108¼	107⅜
Erie	120¾	119⅜	Mich Guarant'd	136	[illegible]
Erie Preferred	110⅛	109⅞	Illinois Cen.	137	134½
Hudson	147	146	Pittsburgh	103	104¾
Pacific Mail	231	230	Fort Wayne	93½	95
Harlem	179½	175	Rock Island	115	115½
Canton	32½	33½	Northwest	37	38
Prairie du Chien	87½	83	Galena	114	114
Treas. Cer., new	99¾	99¾	Reading	120½	122¼
Toledo	121½	122

The receipts at the Treasury, to-day, for the Popular Loan, were $522,450, of which $163,150 was deposited for the Loan Agency, and $359,300 on subscriptions direct at the Treasury Office.

The price of Gold Coin fell off 1½@2 ⅌ cent. on the additional glorious news from Charleston, and Exchange on London closed at 135 ⅌ cent. There were considerable transactions in Gold between 122@122½ ⅌ cent., but only a moderate business in Exchange. The price of Money to the Brokers, as the rule of the Street, is 6 ⅌ cent., with exceptions in favor of the leading Money and Stock firms at 5 ⅌ cent., and against some of the borrowers on the fancies at 7 ⅌ cent. The magnitude of the speculation on the Stock Exchange, of course, creates considerable activity in the market. Some of the heavy Commission firms find it difficult to get through the physical labor of receiving, delivering and hypothecating their Stocks within Bank hours.

The following bids were made to-day for the City Bank Shares:

Attention is directed to the card of Messrs. HOWES & MACY, private Bankers, (late of the Park Bank,) who are prepared, both by experience and with ample capital, to receive and conduct accounts, both City and country, in the line of banking and collection, and to allow interest upon deposit balances; something after the London plan of Private and Joint Stock Banking. Their office is in the old Treasury Buildings, No. 30 Wall-street.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer United States was as follows: Total Receipts, $2,020,952, including for Customs, $249,000; Payments, $3,522,774; Balance, $25,053,299.

The week's exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods (exclusive of Specie) were to the value of $2,011,205, against $2,934,197 same week last year, and $2,275,158 the corresponding week of 1861.

An advertisement appears in another column inviting proposals for capital to complete twenty miles, already graded, bridged and ready for the superstructure, at the eastern terminus of the Root River Valley and Southern Minnesota Railroad. A land grant of 3,840 acres per mile is secured to the Company by act of Congress, a large and valuable portion of which will come at once into market on the completion of the above twenty miles. These lands are free from taxation until resold. The Commissioners who are charged with making the negotiation can be seen at the office of P. M. MYERS & Co., No. 6 Broad-street.

Canadian Flour tends downward. Sales 350 bbls. Extra at $4 70@$7 ⅌ bbl. Rye Flour is inactive at $3 40@$5 30 for fine and superfine, ⅌ bbl. Corn Meal continues in good request at $3 90@$4 for Jersey, and $4 35@$4 40 for Brandywine, ⅌ bbl. Sales 300 bbls.

FOREIGN LIQUORS—Have been inactive at old quotations.

FRUIT—Limited transactions have been reported in the leading kinds, including Layer Raisins at $4 30@$4 35, and Bunch do. at $4@$4 05 ⅌ box; Currants, 13c.@13½c. ⅌ lb.

GRAIN—Wheat has been quite heavy, and prices have again declined 1c.@2c. ⅌ bush. Sales since our last, 137,000 bushels, including White Western, at $1 25@$1 35; Amber Western, at $1 32@$1 37; Red do., at $1 12@$1 21; Amber Iowa, at $1 15@$1 21—the latter for Green Bay; Milwaukee Club, at 82c.@$1 14; Chicago Spring, at 73c.@$1 05 ⅌ bush. Corn is in lively request at much firmer prices. Sales have been reported of 75,000 bushels, at 72½c.@74c. for sound Mixed Western; 70c.@72c. for unsound do.; 75c.@76½c. for Yellow Western, and White do., ⅌ bushel. Rye continues in limited demand, at 80c.@90c., according to quality, ⅌ bushel. Oats are quiet and depressed, including Canada, at 40c.@48c.; Western, at 47½c.@52½c.; State, at 50c.@60c. ⅌ bushel. Barley and Barley Malt continue dull and nominal. The movements in Breadstuffs during the past fortnight, Mr. EDWARD BILL notices, thus: "The business of the fortnight in flour has been quite limited, the leading feature of the market being that of dullness and depression. The supply of fresh-ground arriving is light, and the preference being given that description by shippers, there is a fair demand at our quotations, and holders are firm, whilst the Western brands, from store, are difficult of sale, and are being disposed of at very irregular prices. There are a few samples offering of New St. Louis Extras, the quality of which is such as to command the highest rates. The stock and supplies of strictly prime Wheat is quite moderate, and, although the English orders are generally at low limits, still there is a fair inquiry for the article. The constant fluctuations in Exchange, and the favorable appearance of the coming crop in England and throughout the Continent, serves to depress the value of this staple, and quotations are somewhat reduced on all descriptions, particularly on the inferior qualities. Indian Corn is wanted for home use, and has advanced a few cents. Rye is unchanged in value. Oats are dull and lower. The Export Clearances from this port for the fortnight foot up, to Great Britain and Ireland, 34,416 bbls. Flour; 744,636 bush. Wheat; 159,429 bush. Corn. To Continental ports, 5,220 bbls. Flour; 47,138 bush. Wheat; 13,636 bush. Rye. To Gibraltar, 725 bbls. Flour. To Mexico, 556 bbls. Flour. To Brazil, 4,805 bbls. Flour."

HAY—North River Bale continues in fair request at 95c.@$1 15 ⅌ 100 lbs.

HOPS—Have been salable and steady at 14c.@20c. for last year's crop, ⅌ lb. Messrs. BROWN, No. 52 Water-street, received, to-day, the first invoice of the new crop of Eastern Hops, this year's growth. They are from the plantation of I. E. PRIEST, Esq., West Northfield, Massachusetts. The quality is very fine. Mr. WM. J. SCHEDEL, No. 76 Pearl-street, has also received the first bale of Western Hops, of this year's growth. The Hops were grown by LOW VROOMAN, Esq., of Sharon Hill, Schoharie County, New-York, and have been sold for the California market, at 30c. ⅌ lb. Mr. SCHEDEL has just returned from a tour through the principal Hop growing districts of this State, and reports that he found that, although a good many yards had been affected by flies and black mold, particularly in the southerly part of Schoharie County, the crop nevertheless will be at least fully two-thirds of an average crop, and as it is considered to be a "top crop," the quality is expected to be fine, except those of the yards affected by mold.

IRON—Has been in moderate request including Scotch Pig, at $34@$35, and No. 1 American at $35@$36 ⅌ ton.

LEAD—Pig has been lightly dealt in at $7 25@$7 40 ⅌ 100 lbs.

MOLASSES—Sales, 450 bbls. New-Orleans at 46c.@50c. ⅌ gallon.

OILS—The demand has been limited for all other kinds than Petroleum, which is active and advancing. We quote: Crude Whale at 83c.@88c.; do. Sperm at $1 45@$1 48; Bleached Winter Whale at 95c.@$1; Unbleached Sperm at $1 75@$1 80; Linseed at $1 02½@$1 05; No. 1 Lard at 85c.@95c.; City Red, 60c.@62½c.; Olive at $1 75; Crude Petroleum at 36c.; Refined do. at 68c.@70c. ⅌ gallon.

NEW-BEDFORD MARKET—Week ending Aug. 24.—The market continues quiet. The only transactions in this market is a sale of 190 bbls. "heavy" Sperm at $1 42 ⅌ gallon. In Whalebone a sale of 1,000 lbs. Arctic has been made for manufacturing purposes, at $1 68 ⅌ lb. In Boston 800 bbls. per Arctic from Honolulu, sold to a manufacturer at 89c. ⅌ gallon. We understand that further sales of whale has been made at 85c.

OIL CAKE—Continues inactive, at from $39@$43 for Thin Oblong, City and Western ⅌ ton.

PRINTING CLOTHS—Sales in Providence, during the past week, 47,000 pieces, including, according to the Journal, 15,000 pieces 60x64, light weight, 14c.; 2,000 pieces 56x60, 13¾c.; 2,000 pieces 56x64, 13¾c.; 6,000 pieces 64x64, 14¼c.; 12,000 pieces 64x64, 14⅜c.; 10,000 pieces 64x64, private terms, ⅌ yard.

PROVISIONS—Pork has been in fair demand, and sales have been made of 1,500 bbls. at $11 75@$11 87½ for Old Mess; $13 75, for New Mess; $10 50@$10 75 for Prime, ⅌ bbl. Cut Meats are in more request, at 8½c.@9c. for Hams, and 4½c.@5c. for Shoulders, ⅌ lb. Bacon continues quiet at 6½c.@8c. ⅌ lb. Lard is heavy to-day; sales 950 tcs. and bbls. at 9½c.@10½c. ⅌ lb. Beef continues unaltered; sales. 150 bbls., at $14@$15 for Extra Mess, and $10 25@$13 50 for Plain Mess, ⅌ bbl. Butter continues quiet yet steady, at 14c.@17c. for poor to choice Western, and 16c.@22c. for common to choice State, ⅌ lb. Cheese is inactive, at 8c.@12c. ⅌ lb.

RICE—East India has been in moderate request, chiefly at $6 75@$7 37½ ⅌ 100 lbs. Sales, 550 bags, part rough, at $5 ⅌ 100 lbs.

SALT—Continues quiet at previous prices. Turk's Island 43c.@43½c. ⅌ bushel.

SEEDS—Have been in slack demand, including Clover at 7½c.@8c. ⅌ lb.; Rough Flax at $2 15@$2 40; and reaped Timothy at $1 75@$2 25 ⅌ bushel.

SOAP—Castile has been in limited demand at 15½c.@15¾c., cash, ⅌ lb.

SPELTER—Has been quiet but held firmly at 7½c.@7¾c. ⅌ lb.

SUGARS—Sales 1,070 hhds. and 650 boxes, mainly Cuba, at 9¾c.@10½c. ⅌ lb. Market buoyant.

TALLOW—Sales to-day, 75,000 lbs., at 9¾@10⅛c. Messrs. KNIGHT & SONS notice the week's business thus: "Since our last report there has been but little variation in price of this staple, and the transactions of the week have likewise been comparatively small. On last Wednesday the market had all the appearance of a gradual advance in prices, and some lots were withdrawn from the market for the time being. But on Thursday and Friday the demand had somewhat fallen off, and consequently the market assumed a more settled aspect, and numerous transactions took place at 10⅛c.@10¼c., the former figure was given for several Western lots in salt and flour bbls., the latter for strictly Prime City rendered, and other brands in hhds. Since Saturday the demand had been but fair, and to-day there were scarcely any lots offered at all. The stock of Prime is at present very limited, compared with the past few years, and the arrivals by railroad and boat from various parts are small. In closing we would quote the market inactive, but prices remaining firm at 10¼c., and for something very choice even 10⅜c. might possibly be obtained. The business done in Soap Stocks has been moderate. Tallow Oil has been sold in small parcels at 9¾c.@9⅞c., and some large lots are held at 9½c. We hear of a large lot of Butchers' Association held on private terms. Price this day, 1858, 10c.; 1859, 10⅜c.; 1860, 10⅛c.; 1861, 8⅛c.; 1862, 10⅛c. ⅌ lb."

TEAS—Have been lightly dealt in at about former rates.

TOBACCO—Sales since our last have been less extensive, owing to the depression in Exchanges. Sales 232 hhds. Kentucky at 10⅛c.@17½c.; 147 cases Seed Leaf at 16c.@35c., and 35 bales Cuba on private terms, ⅌ lb.

WHISKY—Sales to-day 450 bbls., in lots, at 45½c.@46c. ⅌ gallon.

FREIGHTS—Have been very quiet to-day. For Liverpool, the engagements included 750 bbls. Flour at 1s. 6d. ⅌ bbl.; 52,000 bushels Grain, by sailing vessel and steamer, at 5½d.@7d. ⅌ bushel; and by steamer, 60 tons Tallow at 25s. ⅌ ton. For London, 500 bbls. Flour at 2s. 1½d. ⅌ bbl., and 14,000 bushels Wheat at 6d. ⅌ bushel. For Antwerp, 1,000 bbls. Flour on private terms., ⅌ bbl. For Rotterdam, 30 tons Heavy Goods on private terms.

INSTRUCTION.

THE RIVERDALE INSTITUTE,
FOR YOUNG LADIES,
AT RIVERDALE ON THE HUDSON,

Will commence its first term on MONDAY, 19th October next, under the rectorship of Rev. WM. C. LEVERETT, M. A., now of Newport, R. I.

The fact that this Institution is founded by the Trustees for the superior education of their own daughters, and not for pecuniary gains, offers more than ordinary guarantees that the patronage of the establishment will be turned solely to the advantage of its pupils.

The buildings of the Institute are on spacious and elevated grounds, and are being fitted with all the modern improvements which can add to the health and comfort of the occupants. The schoolrooms, dormitories, &c., are large and well ventilated, heated by steam, and lighted by gas. The location is picturesque, salubrious, and retired; distance from New-York City 14 miles, or half an hour's ride from 30th-st. Station of the Hudson River Railroad.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

We have intelligence from Charleston to Sunday last, through rebel dispatches published in the Richmond papers. It is of a highly important character. Fort Sumter is, no doubt, by this time in our possession—it having, according to the rebel accounts, been reduced to a ruin. On Saturday six hundred and four shots are said to have been fired at it, of which four hundred and nineteen struck inside and outside. On Sunday the land batteries opened from South to North, and the Monitors from East to West, going close to the fort, and the consequences were most ruinous to the enemy. Gen. GILLMORE had previously demanded the surrender of the fort, and of the works on Morris Island, accompanied by a threat to shell Charleston; and on Sunday at 11 o'clock he gave notice that on Monday at 11 he would open on the city, and that in the meantime non-combatants could leave. Our own reports, by arrivals at this port, are only to midnight of Friday. They, of course, more than confirm the rebel reports of the damage done to Fort Sumter up to that time.

Since the above was written, still further rebel news has reached us, as late as to the 24th. The Richmond Examiner, of yesterday, contains a dispatch from Charleston, announcing that the bombardment of the city had commenced, fifteen 8-inch Parrott shells having been thrown into it. The non-combatants were flying from the doomed city in a continuous stream.

The pursuit of QUANTRELL'S guerrillas appears to have been conducted with considerable success. They disbanded at the head of Grand River, and went in various directions, and the pursuing forces divided accordingly. Two squadrons of Missouri artillery had an engagement with a hundred guerrillas near Harrisonville, and killed five of them, beside recapturing a considerable amount of the Lawrence booty. Up to last accounts, thirty-one of the miscreants are known to have been killed.

The Nashville Union states, on the authority of refugees, that the rebel conscript officers in East Tennessee are actually going through that afflicted country stripping white women while at work in the fields, under pretence of ascertaining whether or not they were men disguised in female garments to escape conscription.

A rebel privateer, formerly the John Roe, of New-York, now called the Arnbridge, and commanded by M. F. G. KEY, of Baltimore, has arrived at Foo Chow, China, to prey upon our commerce. She is a schooner, large and fast.

GENERAL NEWS.

We have news this morning that on the 21st inst., during a violent gale, the United States brig Bainbridge foundered at sea while on the voyage from this port to Port Royal—all on board being lost excepting a colored man, named SMITH, who was picked up at sea in a small boat, on the 22d.

The City of Madison, an ammunition steamer, was blown up at Vicksburgh recently, through the carelessness of a negro, who dropped a percussion shell on board, which exploded and communicated fire to the cargo. Out of one hundred and sixty men on board, only four are known to have escaped.

The Board of Aldermen met at 3 o'clock P. M. yesterday. An important communication was received from the City Inspector. Mr. BOOLE states that he has been unsparing in his efforts to clean the streets and keep them clean, and has expended $94,000 in about two months; that this sum and the amounts paid out of the appropriation for the year to HACKLEY, and also withheld for claims on the old contract and defections, lessens the street-cleaning fund to the sum of about $40,000, which, at the present rate of expenditure, would not last much more than a month. To go on with the work, he proposes that revenue bonds be issued monthly to meet his pay-rolls, in anticipation of next year's appropriation. Mr. BOOLE also takes occasion to recommend a change in the City fiscal year, from January to May, so that it will begin and collections of taxes commence very soon after the passage of the appropriate bill at Albany, which of late years has taken place during April. This plan has been recommended by the Finance Department, but failed of adoption in the last Legislature. During the session the Board took a recess of half an hour, when they met informally with the Councilmen in regard to the draft exemption ordinance. They desired after recess to pass a resolution, pledging themselves to pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto; but failing to gather twelve members to make the necessary two-third vote, adjourned over to 1 o'clock P. M. to-day, after passing a resolution requesting the Street Commissioner to protect the trees and railings of the Parks, most of which are now occupied by National troops.

The Board of Councilmen had a full meeting at 3 o'clock P. M., to receive the Mayor's veto on the $3,000,000 draft exemption ordinance. The veto did not come in till the Board had been in session fifteen or twenty minutes. Its non-appearance during this time excited the lively curiosity of a large lobby of men, most of whom evidently had a direct personal interest in the benefits contemplated in the ordinance. The interim of expectancy was improved by Mr. HAYES to present an ordinance to exempt all militia-men who have served in the national army since March, 1861, and all firemen, both active and exempt. It met with earnest opposition from Messrs. JONES, BRICK and others, who argued that the three million ordinance protected the firemen—a clause to that effect having been inserted to please the Mayor, and under the belief that he would approve the whole measure. Mr. HAYES withdrew his paper for the presentation of the veto, which was read and laid over, after a few remarks by Messrs. JONES, BRANDON and others, all to the effect that they are satisfied with the ordinance as it is; that it was passed to benefit poor men, and was so framed that no drafted man need go to the war who does not desire to. The Board then adopted a resolution by Mr. GROSS, by a vote of 23 to 1, pledging themselves to override the veto at the expiration of ten days. A recess of half an hour followed, and the chamber was cleared of outsiders for a conference with the Aldermen. After the recess Mr. HAYES again presented his ordinance, and it was laid on the table by a vote of 13 to 11. The Board adopted a resolution requesting the Street Commissioner to clear the Parks of all troops except State militia, and adjourned to the second Monday in September.

During the recess of the Common Council yesterday afternoon, the members of both Boards held an informal meeting in the Chamber of the Councilmen, Aldermen FROMENT being call to preside. The raising of money in anticipation of the final passage of the draft exemption ordinance, to be used under its provisions, and the rules to be observed in disbursing the fund, were the subjects considered. A Committee was appointed to confer with the Comptroller about raising means, and a Committee was appointed to draft rules—both Committees to report back at an informal meeting to be held at 1 o'clock P. M. on Thursday. It is presumed that a formal organization as a Board of Relief will then be formed, under the present relief act; in conformity with which the draft ordinance was framed. In that case, the Mayor must be called in to act with them. On the money question, the Sinking Fund Commissioners are to hold a meeting at 11 o'clock this morning. They have about $500,000 at their command, and it is understood that they will advance on the draft exemption bonds, and if the public will not take the bonds freely, that the City bonds in the hands of the Commissioners will be disposed of to raise the necessary amount.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday. The Comptroller sent in additional riot damage claims, numbered from 1,565 to 1,827, which were referred to the Special Committee on these claims, the Chairman of which, Mr. PURDY, states that they are holding daily sessions of from four to five hours each, and will soon be able to report some of the claims for payment. He also remarked that the Committee were already satisfied that some of the claims were fictitious. The Mayor vetoed a resolution to pay advertising bills of the Transcript, holding that no papers can be paid for either City or County advertising unless selected by the Comptroller and himself, according to the second section of the City Tax Law for 1863. The Comptroller transmitted the copy of a letter from the State Comptroller, asking for the payment of the County's quota of State taxes for the fiscal year ending Oct. 1, and amounting to $2,196,497 22. The Comptroller states that he has paid $250,000 on this account, and reminds the Board of the need of prompt action in levying the taxes, so as to enable him to pay the balance in due time from collections. The tax books, he says, have yet to go into the hands of the Clerk of Arrears, for the insertion of the items of unpaid water rents of 1862, before the levy can be made, and which will take several days, making it probable that the collection of taxes will not be commenced on the 1st of September, as required by law. The Comptroller sent in copies of correspondence with the State authorities in relation to the payment of the militia fines and fees required to be collected by the Militia law of 1862. It appears that the law has been amended, so that the County is responsible to the State only for the exact collections, and relieves it of the burden of paying deficiencies; but the collections are credited on the State tax, thereby making it desirable to the County to collect as much as possible. The Board adjourned to 2 o'clock P. M. next Tuesday.

A large quantity of Government property, consisting of blankets, guns, clothing and other articles, which had been sold by the soldiers of the Spinola and other brigades stationed at East New-York, for liquor, has just been found in a tavern at that place, and been brought to this City. Large quantities of stolen goods belonging to the Government are secreted in the same locality, it is supposed, and a further search is to be instituted.

The Stock Market was again much excited on the Railway shares yesterday, and prices were generally higher than on Monday, early in the day, but irregular at the close. Gold fell to 122 @122½, and Exchange 135 ℘ cent.

Breadstuffs were rather more active yesterday; Corn was dearer; all other descriptions cheaper. The inquiry for Provisions was mainly for Pork, which was firmer. Cuba Sugar, New-Orleans Molasses, and Rio Coffee were in more demand. Tobacco was less freely purchased. Hay, Leather and Petroleum were salable and buoyant. Whisky was in moderate request. Cotton was very dull. Other articles exhibited no remarkable changes.

The Live Stock Markets show important changes this week. The supply of sheep is very large, cattle and hogs light. The weather has been very hot, making it impossible for butchers to keep meat without using ice freely, and this is an expensive article. They are now buying sparingly—just sufficient for present wants....Beeves number 4,657, which is nearly 2,000 less than last week. Of these 3,470 were sold at Forty-fourth-street, and 814 at Bergen. Trade was brisk and prices ¼c.@½c. better than last week. The good cattle brought 10½c.@11c. ℘ lb. net weight, and common droves 8c.@[illegible]c.....The average was about 9½c. and everything was sold off clean....Sheep and lambs are very abundant—15,000 for the week—and are ½c.@1c. ℘ lb. lower. Good fat sheep can scarcely be sold for 4½c. to-day. Lambs are worth $3@$4 25 each....Live hogs are ½c. higher and are selling quickly, corn-fed at 4¾c.@4⅞c. Receipts, 8,490, and all sold.

The Battle in Charleston Harbor—Gen. Gillmore's Splendid Operations.

Fort Sumter has fallen! Its historic walls are a mass of ruins! The rattlesnake flag of the rebels, which was hoisted over it on the 14th of April, 1861, has been shot into fragments, and humbled to the ground on the 22d of August, 1863.

Our siege artillery have opened fire on the City of Charleston itself, and if it does not speedily suffer the fate of its chief defensive stronghold, it will be because discretion prevails in the counsels of the rebels.

Such is the news of the morning, and it is news which will thrill the heart of this loyal nation as it has not been thrilled by any event of the war. In Charleston harbor and around Fort Sumter centres so much of tremulous interest—so much sorrow, fear, doubt, hope and joy—alternately to one or other of the great combatants, that when at last the tragedy closes and the curtain falls—when its overthrow is consummated and its rebellious history closed up, the nation feels a sense of relief,—which again quickly changes into exhilaration and enthusiasm as the pealing notes of the National anthem rise and swell upon the air.

The siege operations against Fort Sumter were opened, carried on and completed with a scientific skill and perfectness which must extort the admiration of the military profession, and which amply justify the hopes and the praise of Gen. GILLMORE which we expressed when he was first assigned to the duty of undertaking the work which on Saturday last he finished. The bombardment of the Fort was regularly begun on Monday morning, the 16th inst., after some considerable preliminary work in trying our guns upon it. It closed triumphantly on Saturday last, the 22d inst. We have some knowledge of the operations of each of these six days.

At daybreak of Monday our first gun was fired, and the gunnery at once gave evidence of a clear eye and a steady hand in its direction. The first shot that struck the Fort passed entirely through an outer wall, and also through the inner wall of masonry; and but few shots missed their mark. As an effect of this, before evening, the southwest face was pock-marked all over to the depth of five or six feet, and the parapet also began to present a very ragged appearance. On Tuesday the work was renewed, and, as a consequence of the day's operations, the northwestern face was pock-marked as the southwestern had been the day before, and only a portion of the parapet above remained. "Sumter," says our correspondent, "looked certainly mournful." On Wednesday the fire was resumed, and now our gunners had got the range completely. Shots were driven through one side of Sumter and passed out at the opposite side; while the fort itself fired only one shot by way of response during the day. On Thursday, the fourth day, and on Friday, a tremendous firing was kept up, with still increasing effect. On Saturday, Gen. GILLMORE seems to have determined to close his labors. According to the rebel telegram which we publish, he fired 604 shots at Sumter, of which four hundred and nineteen struck inside and outside. As a consequence, the east wall was scaled and battered in; the northwest wall, with the arches, were demolished; the parapet was undermined; the guns were all dismounted; our shot swept through the fort—and, say the rebels, the "fort is now a ruin." Such was the great week's work achieved by this accomplished engineer and gallant soldier. The Monitors took but little part in the bombardment, and seem to have rendered no material aid whatever. The triumph was the triumph of Gen. GILLMORE'S land batteries. The rebel replies from the fort were throughout comparatively feeble, as Gen. GILLMORE quickly rendered their guns unserviceable.

On next day (Sunday) he notified the rebels that he would open fire on the City of Charleston on Monday. True to his word and prompt to the time, as soon as 12 o'clock of Sunday night had struck, his guns began to play in that direction. We had previously been informed that he had mounted his great 300-pounder piece for this work in a position from which it was thought he could reach Charleston. The latest news gives us a sight of the citizens flying, and the work progressing. The Monitors will now, doubtless, try to run up to the city, and we hope will render effective service. It may be some days yet before we have decisive results, but decisive results are sure.

The heart of the rebels is quailing, and their souls sinking in despair, while loyal men exult that the head of the serpent is being crushed in the very nest in which its eggs were hatched, and in which it first reared its defiant crest.

Rosecrans Before Chattanooga.

Those who take an intelligent view of the military situation will not, amid the brilliancy of our operations on the coast of South Carolina, lose sight of the supreme importance of the work at which the army of Gen. ROSECRANS is now engaged. Superb though the reduction of Sumter be as a piece of engineering, and valuable though its practical results must be, it is a conquest on the outer rim of the rebellion. ROSECRANS menaces its very centre and heart. With the possession of Chattanooga, the whole complexion of the war, the distribution of all our forces in the field, and the lines and combinations of military operations undergo a fundamental change. ROSECRANS drives a wedge into the centre of the Confederacy, seizes interior lines, forces the rebels to fall back on exterior lines, and puts the military power of the rebellion at the mercy of a few vigorous blows.

But we must not lose sight of the magnitude of the work which Gen. ROSECRANS has before him. His force is not large. The rebel force in his front probably equals his, and it has the advantage of occupying strong positions. BRAGG had not less than thirty thousand men left. BUCKNER is within supporting distance with twelve thousand more, and Gen. JOE JOHNSTON has joined with additional reinforcements. We make no doubt the army at Chattanooga will be farther strengthened by additions from LEE. Of course the appearance of ROSECRANS in front of Chattanooga will put a complete estoppel on any movements on the part of the rebels in Virginia. The rebels were strong only so long as they could concentre at one point, while holding our forces elsewhere in abeyance. The rebel chiefs will now bend all their energies to save the strategic centre of the Confederacy. What the nature of the artificial defences of Chattanooga may be we know not. They had not been very great up to the time of ROSECRANS' last advance from Murfreesboro; but when BRAGG was outflanked from Tullahoma, he drew his forces over the mountains and set them to work fortifying Chattanooga, and they have been at this work ever since.

The advance on Chattanooga is in two columns, on a double line of operations—ROSECRANS moving on Chattanooga and BURNSIDE moving on Knoxville. There are always objections attaching to double lines, especially as in the present case, when divergent from the centre. It was absolutely necessary, however, that the exposed left flank of ROSECRANS' army should be covered while he makes a right swinging movement on Chattanooga. This is the whole purpose of the coöperation of BURNSIDE'S column. The possession of Knoxville is not, under the circumstances, of vital moment, for Chattanooga in our possession, Knoxville and the whole line is turned, and falls of its own weight.

Having possession of Chattanooga, the Tennessee River will be a perfect protection to our right flank, a small force being stationed at Decatur, Ala., and Bridgeport, to prevent the enemy from crossing at those points. There remains to be protected an open country of only thirty-five miles to the chain of mountains on the East, which are next to impassable. There are not more than three places from the Georgia State line to the Virginia line, by which an army with artillery and trains, could pass from the South into East Tennessee, namely; down the Ocoee River, in Polk County; down the French Broad River, by Warm Springs, and the route from Jefferson, N. C., to Elizabethtown, in Johnson County, East Tennessee. Either of these routes, however, can be defended by a thousand men so effectually that fifty thousand could not force their way through. Small corps de place at Decatur and Bridgeport can protect the entire river line. Other small garrisons will be placed at the three mountain passes referred to, so that the army of ROSECRANS will really cover the whole line from Decatur, Ala., to the Virginia boundary. We thus see how this will transform the entire aspect of the war.

At last advices ROSECRANS was shelling Chattanooga on Monday last. Doubtless the rebels will make as obstinate a resistance as it is possible, and will exhaust all their energies to foil his grand design. There is little doubt, however, of the final result.

OUR MEXICAN POLICY.—The London Times says that "any protests from the United States [in regard to French policy in Mexico] are likely to be received with little regard—

> "Since for years past the leading organ of the present Washington Cabinet, the NEW-YORK TIMES, has reiterated the declaration that it was the policy and intention of America to make Mexico drink the cup of anarchy to the very dregs, and there can be no sympathy in any part of the civilized world with the disappointment that may now be felt at Washington at the frustration of the project."

This is certainly an amazing charge to make against the NEW-YORK TIMES. The writer must have totally misinterpreted the import of all our numerous articles on Mexican topics for years past. We have persistently and always maintained the cause of constitutional Government, liberal institutions, order, independence and peace for Mexico. Though we only speak for ourselves, we can certainly speak for the "present Washington Cabinet" so far as to say, that it has pursued the same uniform policy in its Mexican relations; and it is totally false that we have ever either made or "reiterated the declaration that it was the policy and intention of America to make Mexico drink the cup of anarchy to the very dregs." The London Times has certainly drunk the cup of unscrupulousness to the very dregs, and swallowed the dregs.

THE EXEMPTION ORDINANCE VETOED.—At the meeting of the Councilmen yesterday afternoon, the Mayor sent in a communication vetoing the exemption ordinance. It is published in another column. The main point of objection made by his Honor is, that the effect of the ordinance, as it reads, is to nullify the object of the act of Congress by depriving the army of men. He thinks the ordinance loosely drawn in regard to the payment of the $300, and as affording opportunity for gross misappropriation of the public moneys. He proposes that the firemen, militia and police should be exempted, past experience having proven the necessity of their presence.

The communication will be perused with considerable interest. It embraces every objection that his Honor has to the ordinance, and sets them forth clearly and distinctly.

GUERRILLAS.—Gen. GRANT has issued an order in reference to guerrillas analogous in intent and aim to that issued by Gen. ROSECRANS. He announces that as all regularly organized bodies of rebels have been driven from those parts of Kentucky and Tennessee west of the Tennessee River, and from all of Mississippi west of the Central Railroad, the most rigorous penalties will be inflicted upon all irregular bodies of cavalry not mustered and paid by the Confederate authorities—upon all conscript officers and all those who aid them—and upon all persons detected in firing upon unarmed transports. It is not contemplated that this order shall affect the treatment due to prisoners of war captured within the districts named, when they are members of legally organized companies, and when their acts are in accordance with the usages of civilized warfare. It is evident that a line of policy similar to this of ROSECRANS and GRANT will soon have to be applied to very large districts of the rebellious States.

A HINT TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT.—Now that the Miantonomah is well launched, why not name the next gunboat, to come off the stocks, the Benedict Arnold? The one was the first red traitor on the continent, the other was the first white one. The difference between the two was only skin-deep, and we don't believe in discriminating against our own race.

END OF ANOTHER BLOCKADE RUNNER.

Destruction of the British Steamer Hebe Off New Inlet.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

The Press, of this city, has a letter from off New Inlet, N. C., giving an account of the destruction of the British steamer Hebe by the United States steamer Niphon on the 18th inst.

One of the Niphon's boats was swamped and her crew captured by the rebels, who lined the shore, firing on the boats charged with the destruction of the Hebe, after she was run on shore.

From the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Aug. 24.

The steamer Oregon has arrived from northwestern ports of Mexico, bringing $114,000 in treasure, and 250 packages of specimen ores from the mines of Sonora and Sinaloa. Various California mining companies engaged in developing the silver mines were in good spirits at their prospects.

Sandwich Island dates of July 25 are received. The news is unimportant.

A number of foreign vessels had arrived at Honolulu during the first half of the present year; less by half than during the corresponding period of last year.

There was a great scarcity of laborers for the sugar plantations, and parties were earnestly urging the Government authorities to import coolies from Polynesia.

The population of the islands is decreasing more rapidly than at any former period. It is now estimated that they contain only 66,000 inhabitants.

News from Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Monday, Aug. 24.

The English frigate Rinaldo sailed from Hampton Roads yesterday for Bermuda, whence she is ordered to proceed to Halifax. This is the first time for a year and a half that there has not been one or more English frigates in Hampton Roads.

The stamship S. R. Spaulding, Capt. HOWES, arrived this morning from New-York and sailed for Charleston this afternoon.

A Dutch brig La Favorita, from Honduras, bound to New-York, put in here this morning short of provisions.

Lord Lyons in Canada.

HAMILTON, C. W., Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Lord LYONS and suite arrived this evening, and remain here until to-morrow, when they proceed to Montreal and Quebec.

The Government Loan.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

The sales of Government bonds to-day amounted to $302,450.

THE LAWRENCE MASSACRE

The Pursuit of Quantrell's Guerrillas.

Sixty or Seventy Killed as Far as Heard from.

KANSAS CITY, Monday, Aug. 24.

Gen. EWIN has just returned from the pursuit of QUANTRELL'S rebel force. It is estimated that he did not have over three hundred men at Lawrence.

The guerrillas disbanded at the head of Grand River, some going South, some Northeast, and others scattering into the brush.

Our forces have divided accordingly, and are pursuing the rebels.

Continual skirmishing is going on.

Lieut.-Col. LAZZEAR, with two squadrons of the First Cavalry, Missouri State Militia, had an engagement with a hundred guerrillas on Big Creek near Harrisonville, Missouri, killing five and capturing a considerable quantity of goods and horses taken from Lawrence.

Thirty-one guerrillas have been killed as far as heard from.

KANSAS CITY, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

QUANTRELL'S force reached the head waters of Grand River, Cass county, about noon on the day after the burning of Lawrence, and there divided into squads of forty and fifty and scattered in various directions. Our troops were half an hour behind and were also divided, and continued the pursuit.

A detachment, ordered from Lexington, met part of the rebel force near Pleasant Hill, killed seven and recovered a considerable amount of the goods taken from Lawrence.

A report has just been received that Maj. PLUMB and Maj. THATCHER overtook a company in Lafayette County and killed 30 of them.

The total number of the guerrillas killed, according to last reports, is between 60 and 70. Our detachments are still in pursuit.

It is ascertained that QUANTRELL'S whole force consisted of three hundred selected men, who assembled from Lafayette, Saline, Clay, Johnson and the border counties, on Thursday noon, at the head of Middle Fork, Grand River, 15 miles from the Kansas line, and on the same day started for Kansas. Scouts brought word that afternoon to the military station at Aubrey, six miles north of the place where they crossed the line of their assembling on Grand River; and an hour after their entrance into Kansas other scouts brought word to that effect. The information was communicated at once to all the stations on the border, and to the District headquarters at Kansas City, 35 miles north of Aubrey. A delay of three or four hours occurred at each station in gathering a part of the patrolling and scouting parties, when the pursuit began from each station separately, leaving a portion of the troops to watch the border and endeavor to prevent QUANTRELL'S return to Missouri.

QUANTRELL'S men told many persons before reaching Lawrence that they were going there to destroy the town, but by some strange fatality the people along the route, who might easily have got word to Lawrence, did not try. A messenger sent by Capt. COLEMAN to notify the people of Lawrence of QUANTRELL'S approach, failed to get through.

QUANTRELL obtained a supply of fresh horses at Lawrence, which enabled him to outstrip and elude the pursuit of our soldiers, whose horses were nearly exhausted, when they reached him six miles south of Lawrence. The citizens who joined in the pursuit, were able to keep up with the enemy, and often compelled him to halt and form in line of battle; but the soldiers could not force their jaded horses to gallop for charge, and the pursuit went on ineffectively. At night, QUANTRELL broke his trail near Paoli, and our troops were delayed all night in finding it.

No damage was done by QUANTRELL from the time our forces came up with him until he got out of Kansas. The pursuit was so close that he was compelled to abandon most of the horses he was leading and the goods stolen from Lawrence.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

The Union Merchants' Exchange passed a resolution to-day condoling with the citizens of Lawrence, and appointing a committee of 10 to collect contributions for the relief of the sufferers.

Gen. SCHOFIELD has issued a stringent order against bushwhacking guerrillas, and giving permission to loyal citizens to bear arms for their own protection and to aid the troops, if necessary.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Aug. 25.

PAYING THE TROOPS.

The Pay Department has made arrangements by which Paymasters will hereafter be assigned to particular descriptions of troops, instead of some of them, as now, attending to all kinds of the service. This will facilitate the disbursements.

THE HOMESTEAD LAW.

The largest numbers of applications for lands under the Homestead law are in Wisconsin, Michigan, Kansas and Washington. The revenue from the public domain is scarcely more than nominal. No additional lands will be immediately advertised for sale.

A COPPERHEAD CONVERTED.

REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue decided to-day that where a party lends gold coin for a period longer than three days, receiving as security the market price of the day in currency, the transaction is the same, so far as its liability to taxation is concerned, as though he borrowed the currency for a period longer than three days, depositing as security the market price in gold coin.

The Nineteenth Ward Shooting Affray.

TESTIMONY OF JAMES P. WALKER.

Coroner RANNEY yesterday continued the investigation in the case of JOSEPH T. DONNELLY, who was shot by Maj. BASSFORD, of MOTT'S cavalry regiment, at the corner of Third-avenue and Seventieth-street, on the night of the 20th inst.

James P. Walker testified, in substance, that he was at the saloon of McCabe's on the night in question; that when he entered he discovered the deceased; he was drunk: Col. Mott was evidently under the influence of liquor also; the two were engaged in what appeared to witness to be an ordinary drunken barroom quarrel. He further testified as follows: I went up to deceased, took hold of him, and said: "Come out of here, Donnelly; what do you want to quarrel for?" Donnelly said: "I don't wish to quarrel but I known as much about military matters as Col. Mott does; I then picked deceased up and carried him out; he soon broke away from me, leaving his coat in my hands; about this time a man whom I thought was the Colonel's Orderly, was going down the steps backwards; the deceased made a kick at him while he was going down; about this time the deceased said, "Fire, d— you;" Maj. Bassford stood there with a revolver in his hand; I said, "Don't fire," and turning to Col. Mott I said, "Colonel, direct him not to fire;" the Colonel replied, "Who dares to interfere with me in my duty?" or words to that effect; I had hold of deceased, who was trying to get down to the Colonel's Orderly, (Major Bassford, the man who shot Donnelly,) and he did get away, leaving his coat in my hands; he staggered down the steps in front of Major Bassford; the latter raised his hand up, having a pistol in it, and fired; the deceased fell, then put up his hands and exclaimed "O God! I'm shot;" the Colonel, who was standing on the stoop at the time, said, "Serves you right, God d—n you, for insulting one of my sentries; the deceased raised himself, struggled, and fell; at that moment I saw that it was Maj. Bassford who fired the pistol at the deceased; for two or three minutes after deceased was shot no one spoke, then Col. Mott turned to a drunken man on his right, whose name is John McCabe, and said to him, "He is one of your friends; God d—n you go and take him away," at the same shoving the man down the stoop; Col. Mott then turned to John Van Tassel, who was standing near, took him by the coat collar and said, "You are one of his friends, G—d d—n you," or words to that effect; in a very excited manner the Colonel asked where the other man was; Col. Mott then went down on the sidewalk and I think ordered his guard to allow no one to pass, and then pushed away several men, among them one policeman, and told them to go; just after Major Bassford had shot the deceased he exclaimed, "I am waiting for two or three more—I bear the marks of that man's foot on my throat, and the man who kicks me in the throat, dies;" if Col. Mott had given the order to fire, I think I would have heard it; I did not hear any such order; I do not think the Colonel gave any such order; I am sure the deceased was intoxicated at the time; if Maj. Bassford had said to the deceased "Keep back," I think I would have heard it; I don't think Maj. Bassford was intoxicated at the time the shot was fired; from the general conduct of Col. Mott, before and after coming into the house, I am positive that he was under the influence of liquor; McCabe and deceased were drunk; Kane was sober; it might have been from a minute and a half to three minutes from the time deceased kicked at Maj. Bassford until he was shot; Maj. Bassford, myself and the deceased served in the same regiment; I did not consider Maj. Bassford in personal danger at the time he fired the shot.

At this stage of the proceedings, Coroner RANNEY adjourned the case until 12 o'clock to-day, at the same place.

ANOTHER DISASTER ON THE MISSISSIPPI

Explosion of the Ammunition Steamer City of Madison.

Over One Hundred and Fifty Lives Believed to Have Been Lost.

CINCINNATI, Friday, Aug. 21.

Some particulars of the explosion of the steamer City of Madison at Vicksburgh were received here last night.

The steamer was being loaded with ammunition, and had received nearly her full load when a negro carrying a percussion shell on board let it fall, causing an instant explosion.

The boat took fire, and the fire communicated to the ammunition on board, blowing the steamer to pieces.

Out of one hundred and sixty men on board, only four are known to have escaped.

The City of Madison was a large side-wheel steamer, owned by Capt. J. S. NEAL, of Madison, Ind. She was worth about $40,000.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

The Draft.

THE FIREMEN AND MILITIA TO BE EXEMPTED.

The Special Committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen, at their meeting on Monday evening, in regard to making arrangements for the distribution of the fund to be appropriated to mitigate the rigor of the draft, held a meeting yesterday morning in the Common Council Chamber. Alderman TIERNAN, Chairman of the Committee, and Aldermen NODYNE, MCLAUGHLIN, MURPHY and KALBFLEISCH were present. Maj.-Gen. DURYEA presented a petition from the officers of the Second Division State National Guard, requesting, in view of the services which the militia have rendered the county, and the necessity which existed for keeping the organization perfect, that the Common Council should provide for the exemption of the members of the force.

The firemen made a similar claim at a former meeting of the Board of Aldermen, stating in the communication that they had risked their lives in the preservation of the property and lives of citizens. Alderman MCLOUGHLIN therefore offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That all members of the Fire Department of the City of Brooklyn, both exempt and active, who were in good standing on the 1st of July last, and who may be legally drafted into the service of the United States under the Conscription act, shall have the commutation fee of $300 paid for them to the city. Should any member of the Department so drafted elect to serve, the sum of $300 shall be paid to him upon his being mustered into the service of the United states.

Alderman NODYNE then offered the following resolution, which was also adopted:

Resolved, That the active members of the various uniformed regiments of the City of Brooklyn, known as the National Guard, in consideration of their services heretofore rendered, and the alacrity with which they have responded to the Government in its time of peril, be placed upon the same footing, in the relief to be offered by the Common Council, as the firemen of said city, as provided in the foregoing resolution.

The Committee then adjourned, to meet this morning, when they will take into consideration some plan for distributing relief to drafted men who do not belong to either of the above classes.

Supreme Court.

An action has been commenced by Mr. CHRISTIAN S. DELAVAN, one of the stockholders in the Excelsior Fire Insurance Company, under the statute entitled "Of Proceedings against Corporations in Equity," to obtain an injunction against said Company, with a view of winding up its affairs. DR. LIGHTHILL ON CATARRH.

Its Causes, Symptoms and Effects.

LETTER No. II.

[Entered according to act of Congress, in the year 1863, by E. Bunford Lighthill, M. D., in the Clerk's office of the District Court of the United States, for the Southern District of New-York.]

In the preceding letter has been enumerated among the direct and indirect effects of catarrh, general debility, partial or entire loss of smell and taste, impairment of sight, weakness of memory, deafness, throat affections and Consumption. Those of our readers who have not personally experienced the dire effects of catarrh, undoubtedly regard it as but an insignificant trouble in the head, of which the offensiveness and inconvenience are the worst features. In order to give them a clear and correct idea as to the dangers arising from this complaint, we will point out the manner by which it is propagated from the nasal passages—its starting point—to those organs which it is apt to invade, or which are liable to suffer from its influence. A knowledge of the anatomy of the parts concerned, is most desirable for that purpose, and being fully aware of the popular distaste to anatomical descriptions, we shall not enter into the minutiæ, but merely endeavor to convey a general idea of the parts primarily affected in catarrh, and those liable to become so in its progress, and the relation they bear to each other, so that our future remarks may be thoroughly understood.

ANATOMY.

At the base or inferior part of the nose are two elliptical orifices, called the nostrils, the margins of which are provided with a cluster of stiff hair, as a protection against the entrance into the nose of foreign bodies, such as insects, dust, &c., &c., which the respiratory current of air might carry along. From the nostrils extend inward two irregular cavities called the nasal passages or fossæ, which terminate behind in the upper part of the throat by two orifices similar to those in front, called the posterior nares or posterior nostrils. The nasal cavities are separated from each other in the middle line, by a thin vertical partition, called septum, which extends from the base of the skull to the roof of the mouth, and is generally deflected considerably to one side, making one cavity usually larger than the other. The septum is sometimes partially destroyed or perforated by ulceration when the cavities communicate with each other.

Each nasal passage communicates with four small cavities called sinuses, situated in the surrounding bones, named, respectively, the frontal, sphenoidal, maxillary and ethmoidal sinuses, their names being derived from the bones in which they are located. The frontal sinuses are in that portion of the frontal bone immediately above the eyes, where phrenologists locate mechanical ingenuity; the sphenoidal bone is at the base of the cranium, and nearly in the centre of the head; the maxillary sinuses are in the maxillary bone or upper jaw, the location of which need not be particularized; and the ethmoidal bone is a small bone wedged in between the orbits of the eye, at the root of the nose. Each nasal cavity furthermore communicates with the orbit by the lachrymal canal, a bony passage by which the tears are conducted from the eye to the nasal cavity; with the cranium by the opening through which the olfactory nerve enters the nose; and with a triangular cavity situated in the maxillary bone, below and at the apex of each orbit, called the spheno-maxillary fossæ.

Immediately behind the posterior nares and nearly on a line with the floor of the nasal passages is the mouth of a canal, called the Eustachian-tube—in honor of the anatomist who first described it. This tube leads directly into the middle ear or tympanum, and thus connects the nasal cavities with the most important portion of the ear. Behind the nose is continued downward, a musculo-membranaceous sac, about four and a half inches in length, called the pharynx, from the lower and posterior termination of which is continued the esophagus [or gullet, a canal about nine inches in length, which terminates in the stomach; from its anterior portion is given off the trachea or wind-pipe a tube about four and half inches in length and from three-quarters to one inch in diameter. At the top of this tube is situated the larynx, the organ of the voice, and at its lower end it divides into two branches, a right and a left one—called the bronchia, which enter the right and left lung respectively, there to be divided and subdivided into innumerable minute tubes, called bronchial tubes, which pervade the whole substance of the lungs.

The bone which forms the floor of the nasal passages and the roof of the mouth, is called the hard palate; from its posterior border is suspended a movable, musculo-membranaceous curtain known as the soft palate. Its superior surface is continuous with the roof of the mouth, and to its lower border is attached the uvula, a conically-shaped little body. Arching outward and downward from the uvula, are two folds of mucous membrane, called the arches or pillars of the soft palate; between these arches are imbedded the tonsils, two glandular bodies of a rounded form, varying in size in different individuals. All those parts behind the mouth, which become visible when the jaw is widely opened and the tongue depressed, including the soft palate and its arches, the uvula, tonsils and upper part of the pharynx, are known under the name of fauces.

The mucous membrane lines all the various parts above described, as it does, in fact, the whole interior of the body. It commences at the edges of the lips and nostrils, proceeds through the nose and mouth to the throat, from whence it is extended downward to line the windpipe, bronchia and their various divisions, as far as the air-cells of the lungs, and proceeding through the esophagus, it lines that passage, the stomach, the whole alimentary canal and urinary apparatus to their respective terminations. From the nasal cavities it extends through the lachrymal canal to the eye, where, under the name of conjunctiva, it is spread over the inside of the lids and the anterior part of the eye-ball. It is also continued upward, and lines the Eustachian tube, tympanum and mastoid cells, and penetrates to the various sinuses to which it affords a lining.

The mucous membrane is smooth, delicate, of a pinkish hue, plentifully supplied with nerves, blood-vessels and lymphatics, and continually moistened by a peculiarly tough, whitish or clear alkaline secretion called mucus. It is subject to diseases more frequent than any other tissue, on account of its exposure to irritating causes, the delicacy of its structure, and the wide range of its sympathies. Its diseases are noted for their tendency to complication and their aptitude to extend themselves to other and distant organs, by reason of the continuity of its tissue, or by sympathetic spreading.

That part of the membrane lining the nasal cavities is called Schneiderian or pituitary membrane. The former name was bestowed in honor of the German anatomist, Schneider, who, in 1660, first correctly described it, and demonstrated that the nasal secretion emanates from its lining membrane, and not from the brain, as was then generally supposed; the latter name is derived from its peculiar secretion (pituita phlegm or mucus.) Both names will be used indiscriminately in future descriptions.

Inflammation produces important changes in the secretion of the mucous membrane as well as in its structure. In the first stage, the membrane is drier than in health, but the secretion soon increases in quantity, and becomes serous, limpid and acrid; after a short time, however, it becomes more viscid and opaque, of a white, yellow, or greenish-yellow color, until, should the affection progress, it assumes the appearance of pus, and is secreted in a profuse quantity. These pathological changes are successively developed in Catarrh, and will explain the source of the copious discharge always attending that disease, to those of our readers to whom it has heretofore been a mystery. Although Schneider published his observations on this subject two hundred years ago, this explanation is not superfluous even at the present time, as we have frequent occasion to experience. There are many yet who think the discharge proceeds from some abscess in the head, and others who believe that it issues directly from the brain.

The changes produced by disease in the structure of the mucous membrane are infiltration and thickening of its tissue, loss of its smoothness and delicacy, a peculiar roughness or hardness to the touch, and the appearance upon its surface of little excrescences called granulations, produced by the enlargement of its follicles.

EFFECT OF CATARRH ON THE GENERAL HEALTH.

Inflammation of a tissue as delicate, sensitive, vascular and richly supplied with nerves as the pituitary membrane cannot exist for any length of time without debilitating the system, and lowering the standard of health. Although some individuals presenting themselves with this complaint, readily assure us that their general health is as good as ever, close questioning usually establishes the fallacy of their opinion, by revealing the presence of some morbid condition of the system indicative of debility. Some admit that their appetite is bad, or that they experience an unusual sensation of lassitude, and an inability or disinclination to the slightest mental or physical exertion; others complain of being fatigued by the discharge of duties which they had formerly performed with the greatest ease, or that they are subject to unaccountable attacks of melancholy—while still others experience a growing weakness of memory, a nervous restlessness, and a disturbed, unquiet sleep, and, in some, all the effects just mentioned are exhibited.

The debility produced by catarrh, even when confined to the nasal passages only, may be ascribed to two principal causes, to wit: The nervous irritation produced by the pain and feverishness, and the discharge constantly secreted in such a profuse quantity by the pituitary membrane.

The nervous irritation is manifest by the feeling of fullness in the head, of heat, uneasiness and occasional pain in the nose, in and around the eyes, through the temples, round the forehead, on the top or back of the head, in the cheek, jaws, gums or teeth. No individual affected with Catarrh is entirely free from some uncomfortable sensation. With some the pain is but slight, and of rare occurrence, amounting to scarcely more than a feeling of discomfort, while with others the pain is almost constant, and of the most distressing character.

The febrile symptoms are sometimes so strongly marked as to be readily observed, while in other cases they are so mild as to be scarcely noticed by the patient, unless his attention is specially directed to them. There may be noticed occasional flushes of heat—the face being flushed and pale alternately—or one cheek appears sometimes redder than the other. The eyes are moist and irritated, the tongue is furred, the gums and teeth are coated with a brownish secretion, the saliva is viscid, and a sensation of fullness and oppression is experienced in the region of the stomach. As is the case with all the symptoms of Catarrh, the febrile ones usually abate in violence toward noon, and become aggravated toward evening.

The nervous excitement and irritation manifested as above described, if kept up for any length of time, has, by its reflex action, a debilitating effect upon the best of constitutions.

The copious discharge enfeebles the general health by withdrawing from the circulation a portion of those juices which nature intended for our proper nourishment, and which are here converted into an offensive secretion, thus establishing a constant drain on the system.

The third letter, which will appear on Wednesday next, will describe the effects of Catarrh on the senses of smell, taste, hearing and sight.

Extraordinary Cure of Catarrh.

From the New-York Evening Express, Aug. 23, 1863.

We have had our attention directed to some surprising cures which have been performed by the celebrated Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City, who is daily performing cures that may be palmed off on the credulous as miracles, but we must remember that those cures are the result of the application of scientific discovery, to well-known laws of organization, and the reason why Dr. Von Eisenberg is thus able to render such important service to mankind is, that he has the experience of a large and continued practice. The following certificate, from a highly respectable citizen of New-York, speaks for itself, and requires no comment:

New-York, Aug. 23, 1863.

I have been suffering for the last three years from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were continually obstructed with a pouring of fluid. I have had frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, generally attended with spitting, often a fullness of my throat, together with a soreness and a dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I now feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful: it is impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured. I give this with gratitude and pleasure. I cannot forbear again saying that my voice, which was hoarse and thick when I applied to Dr. Von Eisenberg, is now clear and good; indeed, I feel abundantly satisfied.

JAMES LITTLE,
No. 245 Seventh-street, New-York.

It is therefore no wonder that the office of Dr. Von Eisenberg, No. 816 Broadway, is continually thronged with patients from all parts of the Union, seeking the aid of his unrivaled skill.

AGAIN NEW TESTIMONY.

READ.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

WILLIAM LIDDLE,
Harlem, 126th-st., between 2d and 3d avs.

"NEW-YORK, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.

THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"NEW-YORK, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. VON EISENBERG. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unsurpassing skill.

SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

NO. 136 MADISON-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

SIGHT RESTORED.

JUNE 25, 1863.

My daughter brought me to Dr. VON EISENBERG almost completely blind in both eyes. I could not bear the pain nor the light. I am completely cured by Dr. VON EISENBERG, and called now to express my gratitude to the Doctor for his skill and unremitting attention, by which I recovered one of the most precious senses to me after being deprived of it for four years. It is only due to Dr. VON EISENBERG to state that I have tried several physicians in vain. I shall be happy to bear personal testimony to Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unrivaled success to any lady or gentleman who will call on me.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.

READ!

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

The following are a few of the many testimonials received, and are submitted with confidence; others, as well as references to parties of the highest respectability, residing in this City, will be cheerfully furnished on application.

NEW-YORK, Aug. 17, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill has operated upon two of my children for cross-eyes, with perfect success. The eyes which, previous to the operation, were painfully deformed, are now perfectly straight.

DAVID SELLING,

NEW-YORK, April 18, 1863.

A little daughter of mine has been affected with a troublesome discharge from both ears, the result of scarlet fever. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed her, has removed the discharge completely, and improved her hearing.

W. H. RAYNOR, No. 6 Pine-st.

From Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, Jan. 17, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill—

SIR: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and as far back as I can remember, always more or less so; and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours, truly,

JOHN NOTT.

CATARRH CURED.

From Rev. P. R. Russell, Lynn, Mass.

I have been much troubled with catarrh of the worst type for some twenty years. It gradually grew worse, producing cough and hoarseness, destroying the sense of smell, and breaking down my general health to such a degree as to compel me to resign my pastorate, and suspend public speaking.

I made diligent use of the usual remedies, such as snuffs of different kinds, nitrate of silver, tar water, olive tar and inhalations, but without any very salutary effects. Last Summer I heard of Dr. Lighthill's successful mode of treating catarrh, visited him, and put myself under his treatment. I began immediately to improve, and this improvement has gone on to the present time. My catarrh has gradually melted away, my cough has disappeared, my voice has become natural, and I am once more able to preach the blessed Gospel. Let me advise all troubled with catarrhal difficulties to apply to Dr. Lighthill.

P. R. RUSSELL.

LYNN, Mass., Feb. 1, 1862.

This may certify that, having been afflicted during the year 1856 with severe and almost total deafness, and having tried the ordinary medical and surgical aid, under the care of those esteemed as eminent practitioners, I was induced at last to put myself under the care of Dr. E. B. Lighthill. His treatment was brief and successful. I was completely restored, and the cure is apparently permanent. I have all confidence in Dr. L.'s skill and integrity in the diseases he makes specialties.

JAMES CRUIKSHANK, LL.D.,
Editor New-York Teacher.

ALBANY, Oct. 1, 1862.

No. 12 CORTLANDT-ST., NEW-YORK, Jan. 2, 1863.

DR. E. B. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: It is with the kindest feelings toward you, and hoping to do service to some one who is afflicted, that I forward the inclosed document to you.

To whom it may concern: I am personally acquainted with the success which attended Dr. Lighthill's treatment in a case of discharge from the ear and chronic inflammation of the throat, and would be pleased to give further information on application.

V. D. W. WEEKES.

No. 73 GRAND-ST., NEWBURGH, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1862.

I placed my wife under the care of Dr. Lighthill for deafness in one ear of nearly three years' standing, accompanied by constant noises. I am happy to state that her hearing is now entirely restored, and the noises removed. Those residing in New-York who are desirous of further information may apply to my brother-in-law, Capt. William Edwards, at No. 95 East 34th-st., who is acquainted with the circumstances of the case.

FRANCIS GOULDY.

No. 740 WATER-ST., NEW-YORK, June 5, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill has succeeded in completely restoring my hearing, which was seriously impaired, although previous to applying to him I was treated by several physicians without the least benefit. Any further information I should be pleased to render on application to me at my residence, No. 173 Second-st., Brooklyn, E. D., or at my place of business, No. 740 Water-st.

WM. H. WATERBURY.

NEW-YORK, July 28, 1862.

I hereby certify that I have suffered during many years from trouble in hearing—one ear at last became entirely deaf, and the other so bad as to render conversation very difficult. I applied to Dr. Lighthill, of No. 34 St. Mark's-place, who, in a short time, and without pain, restored to me the use of my ears, so that I can now hear perfectly well.

J. BISCO, No. 138 East 23d-st.

No. 42 FIFTH-ST., NEW-YORK, June 25, 1862.

DR. LIGHTHILL—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in testifying to the remarkable skill and judgment you displayed in the case of my daughter, who had been partially deaf, accompanied by discharge from the ears, since early infancy, and is now, thanks to your treatment, able to hear as well as any one, while her ears are free from the discharge. Although it is nearly two years since she has been under your care, her hearing remains as good, and her ears as sound, as the day she left you.

O. S. HOLLY.

MARTIN'S LIFE CORDIAL.
THE GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY FOR CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, CHOLERA INFANTUM, DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, SUMMER COMPLAINT, PAIN AND CRAMP IN THE STOMACH, SOUR STOMACH AND HEARTBURN.

It relieves those disagreeable symptoms of DYSPEPSIA, NAUSEA, and RISING of FOOD after eating, and as a SOOTHING SYRUP for CHILDREN, it has no equal. It regulates the bowels, allays pain, and under its very SOOTHING effects the child gently drops into a quiet slumber, and awakes refreshed and invigorated. It is very pleasant to the taste, and children, instead of refusing to take it, cry for the medicine after once tasting it. Call for circular and read certificates from such men as Prof. N. P. Hill, of Brown University; Rev. Horace James, of Worcester, Mass., now Chaplain of the Twenty-fifth Massachusetts, and Superintendent of Blacks, Newbern, N. C., officers in the army, and others.

N. B.—This article is warranted, even in the most obstinate cases, and Agents are particularly requested to pay back the money, where satisfactory evidence is given that the medicine has proved ineffectual.

SCRANTON COAL AT AUCTION.

This Company will hold their Seventh Regular Monthly Auction, on WEDNESDAY, the 26th day of August, 1863, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the rooms now used as the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 25 and 28 Exchange-place, corner of William-st., at which time they will offer, by SIMEON DRAPER, Auctioneer,

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TONS OF FRESH MINED SCRANTON COAL,

embracing all the usual sizes, and deliverable at their depot, Elizabethport, N. J., after the 1st of September next. They will repeat such auction sales on or about the 20th of each month, during the year 1863.

The sale will be positive. Each lot put up will be sold to the highest bidder; no bids, in any form whatever, being made for account of, or on behalf of the Company.

Fifty cents per ton, in bankable funds, to be paid at the time and place of sale, and the balance in like funds, on receiving the order for the coal, which must be called for within ten days thereafter, and the coal taken away within thirty days from the day of sale, unless navigation is obstructed. Buyers who wish, however, can have an additional thirty days for taking the delivery of their purchases, by making a further deposit of fifty cents per ton, within the ten days above specified. Interest, at 7 per cent. per annum, will in such case be charged on the balance, from the time stipulated for payment until paid; and twenty-five cents per ton to cover the expense of stocking the coal—both to be paid on delivery of order.

The other conditions of sale will be substantially those hitherto accepted by all purchasers, by private contract, of coal deliverable at Elizabethport, so far as applicable. The coal will be delivered direct from the cars on their arrival from the mines, when practicable—otherwise from the stock. These conditions will be modified to meet the wants of ocean steamers whose arrival cannot be definitely fixed.

JOHN BRISBIN, President.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

TO CAPITALISTS.—WATER WORKS FOR SALE.—The Elmira Water Works, constructed by the undersigned, are offered for sale. They are substantially built—the mains laid in the principal streets, the water pure, soft and supplied by gravity. The village contains between 10,000 and 12,000 inhabitants, and is one of the most enterprising and rapidly increasing villages in the State. The works were constructed in 1861–2, under a liberal charter, with the usual exclusive rights and privileges of Water Companies. Being about to engage in building works in another place, we offer these for sale. No better investment can be found. Address, WYCKOFF, HOBBIE & CO., Rochester, N. Y.

FOR SALE—THE FIVE-STORY MARBLE FRONT store No. 36 Warren-st., a thoroughly first-class building, finished in the best manner, sub-basement and extension vaults under the sidewalk, with Hyatt's lights. Lot 25x100. Is now occupied by good and responsible tenants. Two-thirds of the purchase money can be obtained on mortgage at 6 per cent., if desired. Apply to SAMUEL H. TERRY, No. 109 Chambers-st., from 3 to 5 P. M.

FOR SALE—NEAR UNION-SQUARE, THE very desirable property on the northwest corner of Irving-place and 16th-st., 53x100, with improvements. Well located for a first-class small hotel, being in the immediate vicinity of the Academy of Music, theatres, railroad and omnibus lines. For terms, &c., apply to

RIDLEY WATTS, Executor,
No. 704 Broadway.

FOR SALE OR TO LEASE—THE PLOT OF ground on Newtown Creek, recently occupied by the undersigned for an oil refinery. There is a fine chimney and boiler in perfect order, and bricks enough to rebuild a factory. A good water front and dock, and easy of access from the City, by ferry and railroad, in thirty minutes. HEYE BROTHERS, No. 39 Broad-st.

FOR SALE—ON COTTAGE-AVENUE IN the village of Mott Haven, 10 minutes' walk from 3d-av. cars and steamboat, a first-class house containing 12 rooms, with all the improvements, will be sold very low on easy terms. Apply to THOS. OVERINGTON, Builder, Concord-st., Mott Haven.

FOR SALE—A VERY VALUABLE TRACT OF coal land in the Anthracite region of Pennsylvania. Very handy to market. This is a rare opportunity for capitalists to invest. Nor particulars, apply to A. E. BENNETT, No. 109 Water-st.

ORANGE, N. J.—VILLAS, VILLA SITES AND farms, a great variety, beautifully situated, one hour from New-York, for sale low. Also, country seats and houses to let for the season or year, by HENRY B. BLACKWELL, No. 59 William-st., New-York, 9 to 11 A. M.; No. 49 Main-st., Orange, 1 to 5 P. M.

COUNTRY RESIDENCES.

BY ORDER OF THE CITY BANK OF HARTFORD.—FOR SALE—One of the most beautiful and complete residences in the village of Fairfield, Conn.; house built and lately occupied by Mr. Jonathan Gillett; quarter of a mile from a fine bathing beach, the shore of Long Island Sound; only two hours and a quarter distant from New-York by the New-Haven Railroad. The house is large and commodious, with all modern improvements; gas-pipes throughout and complete machinery for making gas on the premises; fine stables, cow-house, ice-house and hennery; four acres of garden. The grounds in front of and around the house are shaded by heavy growth of evergreens and choice shrubbery. In the rear of the fruit orchard, which is connected with the garden, there are four acres of fine meadow lands stretching to a road parallel with the one running in front of the house. In all respects this place is peculiarly suited for a gentleman's country-seat. If not sold at private sale on or before the 15th day of September, it will be disposed of at public auction, due notice of which sale will be given. For permits to view the premises, or for any information in regard to it, apply to J. H. DRAPER, Auctioneer, No. 36 Pine-st., New-York.

YOUNG LADIES' BOARDING SCHOOL FOR SALE.—The large and commodious new building in the town of Somers, Westchester County, forty miles from New-York City, containing some thirty odd rooms, well adapted for a YOUNG LADIES' BOARDING SCHOOL, is offered by the proprietor on easy terms. The location is one of the healthiest in the country, scenery beautiful, and only 1½ miles from the Harlem Railroad. Post-office, telegraph station, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches within five minutes' walk. A beautiful orchard, together with five to ten acres of land, will be sold with the building. For further particulars apply to J. B. YOUNG, No. 12 Chambers-st., where plans of building may be seen.

FOR SALE—A HANDSOME VILLAGE RESIDENCE; excellent outbuildings and 17½ acres of land, with abundance of fruit and shade trees. Location 18 miles from Jersey City on the New-Jersey Railroad. To any person desiring a healthy and pleasant residence with quick and frequent communication with New-York, the above offers rare inducements. Price $15,000; two-thirds may remain on mortgage if required. Apply to JOHN WEBBER, Esq., No. 233 Grand-st., Butchers' and Drovers' Bank Building.

FOR SALE IN ORANGE, N. J.—A FURNISHED house, situated on Main-st., within three minutes' walk of the Brick Church Station. The house is well shaded, and the garden contains a great variety of fruit. Terms easy. For particulars, apply on the premises, or to HENRY SANGER, at Nos. 105 and 107 Chambers-st., New-York.

FOR SALE—AT ORANGE, N. J., A DESIRABLE place, situated on the mountain side, between North and South Orange, containing about 2½ acres of land, fine house, barn and outbuildings; garden stocked with the choicest varieties of fruit. Address, for particulars, S. T., Post-office Box No. 1,949.

FOR SALE.—A BEAUTIFUL COUNTRY RESIDENCE for sale, near Cornwall Landing, N. Y., embracing some of the finest views of that famed locality. For information, apply to GEO. S. COE, Esq., American Exchange Bank, New-York City; S. W. FULLERTON, Esq., Newburgh, N. Y.; or to Mrs. H. C. HUSSEY, on the premises.

TWO DESIRABLE COTTAGE RESIDENCES for sale at Maplewood, township of South Orange, N. J., beautifully located and convenient to station. Will be sold at a low figure. Also, to let, a cottage at Tarrytown; low rent. Apply at drug-store, Bowery, corner of 4th-st.

No. 502 BROADWAY—NEW-YORK, Aug. 24, 1863.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M. on Thursday the 27th inst., for furnishing by contract at the depot of army clothing and equipage in this City,

One thousand uniforms of Duryee Zouaves pattern—samples of which can be seen at this office.

Bidders will state how soon they can make the first delivery and in what time they can deliver the whole.

The United States reserves the right to reject any or all of the bids as may be deemed for the interests of the service.

Proposals should be indorsed, "Proposals for furnishing Zouave Uniforms," and addressed to Lieut.-Col. D. H. VINTON, Deputy Quartermaster-General U. S. A.

OFFICE OF ASSIST. COM.-GEN'L OF SUBSISTENCE,
No. 4 STATE-ST., NEW-YORK, Aug. 21, 1863.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the undersigned until 4 o'clock P. M. on WEDNESDAY, the 26th inst., for supplying, for the use of the United States Army, SUBSISTENCE STORES, to be delivered in New-York or Brooklyn, as follows, viz.:

For delivery on 7th of September, 1863:

563 barrels first quality new MESS PORK, or PRIME MESS PORK, to be full salted, 200 pounds meat, in full-hooped oak barrels, with two iron hoops; meat to be free from rust or stain.

12,500 pounds first quality THOROUGHLY SMOKED NEW BACON SIDES.

12,500 pounds first quality THOROUGHLY SMOKED NEW BACON SHOULDERS.

12,500 pounds first quality canvassed sugar-cured SMOKED HAMS.

The bacon and hams are to be packed in air-tight tierces with four iron hoops; or if in bulk, may be delivered at such points in the Cities of New-York or Brooklyn, as may be designated.

1,298 barrels of first quality extra superfine Southern, St. Louis, or other brands of FLOUR, suitable for keeping in a warm climate. The brands and place of manufacture to be stated in the bids, and whether in round or flat hoop barrels. The barrels to be full head-lined and bungs sealed.

1,414 bushels of first quality NEW WHITE BEANS, sixty pounds to the bushel, well seasoned and dry—to be packed in good, bright, well-coopered flour barrels, to be full head-lined with green hickory.

100,000 pounds of prime RICE, in clean, good, stout oak barrels, like samples to be seen at this office.

12,300 pounds first quality No. 4 white flint corn HOMINY, in well-coopered head lined flour barrels.

137,500 pounds prime RIO COFFEE.

Bidders are requested to name prices for furnishing it in either of four styles, as follows:

1. Green, in barrels, like samples to be seen at this office.

2. Green, and packed in double sacks of one hundred pounds each, like sample to be seen at this office.

3. Roasted, in double sacks as above.

4. Roasted and ground, in barrels as above, the barrels to be fully lined with strong paper.

Parties offering to furnish coffee, either green or to be roasted, are required to send in full chop-samples, in the green state, of all the coffee they propose to furnish.

369,125 pounds of dry, light-yellow COFFEE SUGAR, or choice dry raw SUGAR; barrels to be new and of the best in use for the purpose, and to be full head-lined.

1,250 GALLONS of the best quality of PURE VINEGAR, made only from Cider or Whiskey, free from all foreign acids and injurious substances, and of a uniform strength, the Whiskey Vinegar taking thirty-five grains bi-carbonate of potash to neutralize one ounce troy, the Cider Vinegar as near the same strength as may be; to be put up in half barrels of 22 gallons capacity, like samples at this office. Each proposal must state distinctly the kind and quality of Vinegar offered.

2,500 pounds best quality of ADAMANTINE CANDLES, to be 16 ounces to the pound, one-half sixes, the remainder twelve.

25,000 pounds good hard SOAP, to be made only from good materials, free from clay, soluble glass, or other adulteration, to have no unpleasant ordor, to contain not more than twenty-five per cent. of water, and to be well dried before being packed.

1,250 bushels of good, clean, dry, fine SALT, in strong tight barrels and half barrels, adapted to the purpose, with full head-lining; sixty pounds to the bushel.

POTATOES—Such quantity as may be required during the month of September; 60 pounds to the bushel, in good, ordinary well-coopered barrels.

ONIONS—Such quantity as may be required during the month of September; 60 pounds to the bushel, in good, ordinary, well-coopered barrels.

5,950 pounds first quality DRIED APPLES, in strong, tight barrels.

2,500 pounds first quality DRIED PEACHES, in strong, tight half-barrels.

2,500 gallons mixed PICKLES in ten-gallon kegs; each keg to contain six gallons medium-sized Cucumbers, two gallons green Peppers, and two gallons Onions.

For delivery on the 14th of September, 1863, the same quantity as above.

For delivery on the 21st of September, 1863, the same quantity as above.

For delivery on the 28th of September, 1863, the same quantity as above.

Separate proposals must be made for each article enumerated, and bidders may propose for the whole or any part of each.

Samples of all the articles, except the meats, must be delivered with the proposals, and referred to therein. Samples of Flour, Beans, Rice, Hominy, Sugar, Candles, Salt and Dried Fruit must be in neat boxes of card-board or tin, fully labeled, and not in paper parcels.

Each bid must have a printed copy of this advertisement posted at its head, and must be specific in complying pricisely with all the terms. Each bid, to have consideration, must contain the written guaranty of two responsible names, as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby guarantee that should all or any part of the above bid be accepted, it shall be duly fulfilled according to its true purport and conditions; also, that a written contract, with bonds to the amount of one-fourth the value of the stores proposed to be furnished, shall be executed, if required."

The seller's name, place of business, and the date of purchase, as well as the name of contents, with gross, tare, and net weights, and shipping marks, to be hereafter designated, must be plainly marked on every package. All other old marks must be obliterated.

Certificates of inspection by professional packers or inspectors, other than the party furnishing the provisions, will be required for all the meats, certifying on the part of the seller their present quality and condition and the immediately preceding inspection. The meats will also be examined and passed upon by Robert P. Getty, Inspector on the part of the United States.

The Flour will be inspected at the date of delivery, and compared with the retained samples, by Henry Shields, President of the Association of Flour Inspectors, whose certificate will be required.

All the stores will be carefully inspected before their delivery, and compared with the retained samples. Returns of weights, signed by a professional Public Weigher, must be furnished whenever required.

Payment, as heretofore, to be made in such funds as may be furnished by the United States.

Contractors are expected to hold their goods, without expense to the United States, until required for shipment.

Blanks for Proposals will be furnished at this office, which must be enclosed in an envelope addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Proposals for Subsistence Stores."

A. B. EATON, Colonel and A. C. G. S.

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until TUESDAY, 15th Sept. next, at 12 o'clock M., for furnishing ANTHRACITE COAL for the War Department, to be delivered during the year commencing 1st October, 1863, and ending 30th September, 1864. Coal to be of the best quality Anthracite, for use of steamers; to weigh 2,240 lbs. to the ton, and to be subject to inspection. The Coal is to be delivered on board vessels in the port of Philadelphia or New-York, in such quantities and at such times as may be required, furnishing, if demanded, one thousand tons per day. In case of failure to deliver the Coal in proper quantity, and at the proper time and place, the Government reserves the right to make good any deficiency by purchase, at the contractor's risk and expense. The price must be for the Coal delivered on board vessels, on the terms and conditions above stated. Twenty per cent will be withheld from the amount of all payments, which reservation is not to be paid until the contract shall have been fully completed. Payments of the remaining eighty per cent, or balance due, will be made monthly, or when the Department is in funds for that purpose. Each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by one or more responsible persons, that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into obligation, with good and sufficient sureties, to furnish the supplies proposed. No proposition will be considered unless accompanied by such guarantee. Two or more sureties, in the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, will be required to sign bonds for the faithful performance of the contract, and their responsibility will be certified by a U. S. District Judge, U. S. District Attorney or Collector. The right is reserved to reject all the bids, if considered to be to the interest of the service to do so.

Proposals must be indorsed, "Proposals for Coal for the War Department."

(Signed) A. BOYD,
Captain and Asst. Quartermaster U. S. Army.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE CARD WORLD!
A COMPLETE REVOLUTION!
TIME FOR A CHANGE!
FOREIGN EMBLEMS USED LONG ENOUGH BY A REPUBLICAN PEOPLE.
NATIONALITY EVERYTHING!!

The AMERICAN CARD COMPANY, conceiving that the introduction of NATIONAL EMBLEMS, in the place of Foreign, in Playing Cards, will be hailed with delight by the American people, take pleasure in presenting the Union Playing Cards as the first and only Genuine American Cards ever introduced, in the fullest confidence that the time is not far distant when they will be the leading Cards in the American Market. The suits are: Eagles, Shields, Stars and Flags. Goddess of Liberty in place of Queen, Colonel for King, and Major for Jack. In playing with these cards, they are to be called by the names the Emblems represent, and as the Emblems are as familiar as household words everywhere among the American people, they can be used as readily the first occasion as cards bearing Foreign emblems. The UNION PLAYING CARDS are elegantly executed and put up, each pack in neat, handsome card cases, suitable to keep them in when not in use; these are put up in dozen boxes for the trade. The sale of these cards is unprecedented in the history of the card trade.

For sale by respectable dealers everywhere. Two packs sent as samples, post-paid, on receipt of $1.

MEDICAL.

THE ALL-SUFFICIENT THREE!

TRIESEMAR, Nos. 1, 2, and 3—Protected by Royal letters patent of England, and secured by the seals of the "Ecole de Pharmacie de Paris," and the Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna.

TRIESEMAR No. 1 invigorates the exhausted, all physical impediments vanish like magic before its influence; even in the decline of life its rallying powers are astonishing.

TRIESEMAR No. 2 has superior properties in those cases where copavia or cubebs is usually administered.

TRIESEMAR No. 3 entirely eradicates all impurities; is most excellent in secondary symptoms, thus obviating the necessity of mercury or any other deleterious ingredient. These admirable remedies are in the agreeable form of a lozenge. In tin cases at $3; four cases in one at $3, or four nine-dollar cases for $27, thereby saving $9. To be had of Dr. BARROW, No. 194 Bleecker-st., four doors from Macdougal, New-York. Immediately on receipt of amount, forwarded to any part of the world, securely packed and directed, according to the instructions of the writer.

Advice and medical aid as usual at the above medical establishment.

By special appointment, Triesemar is also sold by Wells & Co., No. 115 Franklin-st., New-York, and by Worthington, No. 206 Fulton-st., Brooklyn.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send for a circular, or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

DR. COBBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y. University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the Hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE—Containing nearly 300 pages, and 150 fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the sexual organs, in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage-stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

DR. LEWIS' CELEBRATED REMEDIES are mild and effectual in their operation, require no restraint in diet, loss of time or hindrance in business, possessing the power of eradicating every symptom of disease in its worst stages. One trial will convince the most skeptical of their surprising properties. Slight cases cured in two days, or prevented, if application is made in time. Office No. 7 Beach-st., between Varick-st. and West Broadway, New-York. Rooms arranged so that the patient sees none but the Doctor. Consultation and advice gratis. Charges moderate.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st., New-York.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the unmarried or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st. Call or send for circulars.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

DR. WEST IS CONSULTED DAILY ON all diseases of a secret nature, at his private medical office, No. 27 Duane-st., between Chatham and Centre sts., and insures to those who may wish to consult him a safe and speedy cure, without mercury, hindrance from business or change of diet. Slight cases cured in 2 or 3 days. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office No. 129 Liberty-st.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

DESERTERS.—The attention of all citizens is called to section 24 of the "Act for Enrolling and calling out the National Forces, and for other purposes," which is in the words following:

SEC. 24. "And be it further enacted, That every person not subject to the Rules and Articles of War, who shall procure, or entice, or attempt to procure or entice, a soldier in the service of the United States to desert; or who shall harbor, conceal, or give employment to a deserter—or carry him away, or aid in carrying him away, knowing him to be such; or who shall purchase from any soldier his arms, equipments, ammunition, uniform, clothing, or any part thereof; and any Captain or commanding officer of any ship or vessel, or any superintendent or conductor of any railroad, or any other public conveyance, carrying away any such soldier, as one of his crew or otherwise, knowing him to have deserted, or shall refuse to deliver him up to the order of his commanding officer, shall, upon legal conviction, be fined, at the discretion of any Court having cognizance of the same, in any sum not exceeding $500, and he shall be imprisoned not exceeding two years nor less than six months."

The number of deserters from the United States Army from regiments now in the field, disguised and employed in this District, will cause the law in relation to employing or concealing them to be rigorously enforced, and all are warned against violating the preceding section.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12, 1863.

TO THE BOARD OF ENROLLMENT—SEVENTH DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK.—In accordance with Section 6 of the Enrollment act, approved March 3, 1863, I hereby communicate orders as follows, from the President of the United States, in reference to calling out the National forces, viz.:

"I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America, and Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy thereof, having taken into consideration the number of volunteers and militia furnished by and from the several States, including the State of New-York, and the period of service of said volunteers and militia since the commencement of the present rebellion, in order to equalize the numbers among the districts of the said States, and having considered and allowed for the number already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service aforesaid, do hereby assign two thousand and fifty, as the first proportional part of the quota of troops to be furnished by the Seventh District of the State of New-York, under this the first call made by me on the State of New-York, under the act approved March 3, 1863, entitled, 'An act for enrolling and calling out the National forces, and for other purposes,' and in pursuance of the act aforesaid I order that a draft be made in the said Seventh District of the State of New-York for the number of men herein assigned to said district: and fifty per cent. in addition.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this twelfth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the independence of the United States, the eighty-eighth.

[L. S.] (Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN."

The Board of Enrollment in the Seventh District of the State of New-York is hereby ordered to make a draft, with the least possible delay, on the first class of the National forces in said District, for the number of men stated in the President's order, the draft being made separately on each Enrollment Sub-district for the number of men hereinafter assigned to each of said Sub-districts, and which assignment is as follows, to wit:

To the First Sub-district, 1,367 men.
To the Second Sub-district, 1,708.

These are the quotas of the Sub-districts with fifty per cent added.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

JAMES B. FRY,
Provost-Marshal-General.

This order, made in accordance with the letter of the President to Gov. SEYMOUR, dated Aug. 7, 1863, will replace that previously sent, bearing date July 7.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
PROVOST-MARSHAL-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12, 1863.

TO THE BOARD OF ENROLLMENT, FIFTH DISTRICT OF NEW-YORK.—In accordance with section six of the Enrollment act, approved March 3, 1863, I hereby communicate orders, as follows, from the President of the United States, in reference to calling out the National forces, viz:

I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States of America and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy thereof, having taken into consideration the number of volunteers and militia furnished by and from the several States, including the State of New-York, and the period of service of said volunteers and militia since the commencement of the present rebellion, in order to equalize the numbers among the districts of the said State, and having considered and allowed for the number already furnished as aforesaid, and the time of their service aforesaid, do hereby assign two thousand and fifty as the first proportional part of the quota of troops to be furnished by the Fifth District of the State of New-York, under this the first call made by me in the State of New-York under the act approved March 3, 1863, entitled "An Act for enrolling and calling out the National forces and for other purposes," and in pursuance of the act aforesaid, I order that a draft be made in the said Fifth District of the State of New-York for the number of men herein assigned to said District, and fifty per cent. in addition.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twelfth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-eighth.

[L. S.] (Signed,) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The Board of Enrollment in the Fifth District of the State of New-York is hereby ordered to make a draft with the least possible delay in the first class of the national forces in said District for the number of men stated in the President's order, the draft being made separately in each Enrollment Sub-district for the number of men hereinafter assigned to each of said Sub-districts, and which assignment is as follows, to wit:

To the First Sub-district, 979 men; to the Second, 787; to the Third, 585; to the Fourth, 724.

These are the quotas of the Sub-districts, with fifty per cent. added.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant.
JAMES B FRY,
Provost-Marshal-General.

In compliance with the above order, the draft in the Fifth Congressional District of the State of New-York will commence on WEDNESDAY, the 26th day of August, 1863, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at No. 413 Broome-st., in the City of New-York.

JOHN DUFFY,
Captain and Provost-Marshal,
Fifth District, New-York.

PROVOST-MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
NINTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, NEW-YORK,
Broadway, cor. of W. 47th-st. and 7th-av.
Aug. 25, 1863.

In pursuance of orders this day received from Col. James B. Fry, Provost-Marshal-General of the United States, the draft in this District will be resumed on WEDNESDAY, Aug. 26, at 10 o'clock A. M., at these Headquarters. The quotas of the different Wards are as follows:

Twenty-second Ward	1,500
Nineteeth Ward	1,347
Twelfth Ward	935

The drawing will commence with the Twenty-second Ward, beginning with the number one thousand and one, and will be proceeded with until the whole quota is drawn.

On THURSDAY, Aug. 27, the quota for the Nineteenth Ward will be drawn, and on FRIDAY, Aug. 28, the quota for the Twelfth Ward will be drawn.

Due notice will hereafter be given when applications for exemption will be heard.

CHARLES S. JENKINS,
Captain and Provost-Marshal 9th District, N. Y.

NOTICE.—I HAVE A YEAR-CLOCK, LEFT AT my store two years ago to be repaired. If not called for it will be sold for expenses immediately.

MUSICAL.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 82 and 84 Walker-st., New-York.

RAVEN & BACON.

Manufacturers of Grand and Square Piano Fortes.

Wareroom No. 135 Grand-st., near Broadway, N. Y.

The long experience and the many facilities we possess enable us to produce instruments unsurpassed by any other establishment. Our personal attention is given to the construction, improvement and introduction of all essential changes that may be required to make a perfect piano forte. Purchasers are invited to call and examine our large assortment of pianos which we are now offering on favorable terms. Descriptive circulars sent by mail.

PIANOS, MELODEONS AND HARMONIUMS—The largest assortment in the City can be found at WATERS', No. 481 Broadway, at great bargains; 100 new and second-hand Pianos, Melodeons and Harmoniums to let, rent allowed if purchased as per agreement. Monthly payments received for the same. Cash paid for second-hand pianos and melodeons, or taken in exchange for new. Instruments tuned and repaired.

CALENBERG & VAUPEL'S
NEWLY IMPROVED

Overstrung Grand and Square PIANOS, are now considered by the best judges as superior to any other made in this country. Warranted for five years.

The Draft in the Seventh District.

It is gratifying to record the completion of the Draft in the Seventh District. On Monday the proceedings were begun, and at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the whole quota was enrolled. The Provost-Marshal, Capt. WAGNER, is entitled to great praise for the quiet and efficient manner in which the proceedings were carried out. The arrangements were perfect, the work rapid, the order complete. Commissioner BALDWIN alternated with Capt. WAGNER in announcing the names, which was done so distinctly as to render the labor of the reporters comparatively light. The Police force present was under charge of Capt. BROWER, of the Seventeenth Precinct. A large military force was under arms, in charge of Capt. CORNELIUS KING. The Recorders were Lieut.-Col. RUTHERFORD and Messrs. B. P. WOODS and S. S. WANDELL.

As early as 9 o'clock, yesterday morning, Capt. WAGNER announced that the drafting for the Seventeenth Ward was about to commence. A large audience eagerly watched the proceedings, preserving admirable order. Supervisor LITTLE, Deputy Sheriff RILEY, and Commissioner BALDWIN counted the ballots, 10,690 in number, and deposited them in the wheel, after which Capt. WAGNER announced that 1,708 of them would be drawn, including the 50 per cent. addition, and at 10½ o'clock the drawing commenced.

Father McCLOSKEY, the well-known pastor of the Church of the Nativity was drawn, as was also his Sexton, Mr. McGOVERN, Councilman GOSS, a host of Policemen, MICHAEL J. McCARTHY, a school-master; one of the Deputy Sheriffs, THOS. SULLIVAN, foreman of Hook and Ladder No. 12, and several members of Hose No. 17 and Engine No. 26, were also among the lucky dogs, and the announcements of their names caused much merriment, (among their friends.)

Col. NUGENT, Capt. STONE, Assistant Adjutant-General in Col. FRY's Staff; Supt. KENNEDY, Dr. POWELL, Commissioner LAMONT, of the Sixth District, and other prominent citizens called in during the course of the day.

The thanks of the community are due to Capt. WAGNER and Commissioner BALDWIN, for the efficiency of the operations in this excited District, and the thanks of the Press are especially deserved, for the constant courtesies extended and facilities afforded them in the discharge of their duties.

An alphabetical list of the names drawn, carefully compared with the ballot record, will be found on our second page.

The Eighth District.

In obedience to official orders from B. F. MANIERRE, Marshal of the Eighth District, which comprises the Eighteenth and Twenty-first Wards, the Draft commenced for that section of the City at 8 A. M. yesterday, in the building No. 1,303 Broadway, near 36th-street. At a very early hour a large but orderly crowd of working men and others lined the adjacent sidewalks. A strong body of Police, commanded by Capt. SPEIGHT of the Twenty-ninth Precinct, was stationed both outside and inside of the building, assisted by a detachment of military who occupied the lower floor. On the tower of the Seventh-Avenue Arsenal in the vicinity were sentinels and lookouts, who scanned the neighborhood with field glasses, the Union flag indicating the military occupancy of the structure as a strong point of vantage in case of attempted insurrection. The opposition which made the scene so memorable on the 13th of July, was not renewed, and, at 8 o'clock precisely, a thousand and twenty-six were counted out, and after the deduction of 216 drawn on the former occasion, Marshal MANIERRE announced the formal opening of the proceedings.

Mr. RICHARD N. LISLE was then blindfolded and placed beside the wheel, which was at once set in motion.

The first name drawn was JOSEPH CAMPBELL, of No. 346 First-avenue, who received the usual ironical congratulations of his friends. Mr. SPENCER KIRBY, the Commissioner, read each name aloud in a clear, distinct voice, often exciting hilarity as he pronounced the curious addresses sometimes given. Among others, the name of an individual resident in "Fortieth-street, on the hill,"—for so it was written—aroused universal mirth.

The number to be drawn for the Eighteenth Ward being 1,188 in all, 888 were taken from the wheel yesterday. That total added to the 216 drawn in July, completes the quota.

[We are unavoidably forced to defer the publication of the list for the Eighth District until to-morrow.]

The Drafts To-Day.

The Drafting in the Eighth District will be continued, and, it is expected, concluded to-day.

The Draft in the Fifth District, consisting of the Seventh, Tenth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Wards, will be commenced this morning at 10 o'clock, at the office of Provost-Marshal JOHN DUFFY, No. 428 Broome-street. The quota is as follows: Seventh Ward, 970 men; Tenth Ward, 787 men; Thirteenth Ward, 585 men; Fourteenth Ward, 724 men. Total —3,075.

The Draft in the Ninth District will be renewed at 10 o'clock this morning, as will be seen by the following notice:

HEADQUARTERS PROVOST-MARSHAL, NINTH DISTRICT, NEW-YORK, BROADWAY, corner of West Forty-seventh-street and Fourth-avenue, Aug. 25, 1863.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH
BITTERS.

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch, that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air.
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods, or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent:
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded workrooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues, that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, seasickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle-aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Sold by respectable druggists in all parts of the world.
